Foreword

Walking proudly, pausing to ponder, questioning intently—the young men and women who hold tomorrow in their hands. And how do they emerge from the shell of childhood into the molders of the future? The 1966 Cat Tale endeavors to answer this question—to discover what forces combine to influence these individuals, to understand how the light of youth shines undauntedly “through the shadows”.

The fusion of innumerable people, ideas, and institutions forms the attitudes and beliefs of an individual. One of the most influential of these is the school, whose importance can be divided into five forces: the classes, organizations, sports, honors, and activities. By enlarging upon these five forces, the 1966 Cat Tale hopes to illustrate the school's role in guiding its students “through the shadows.”

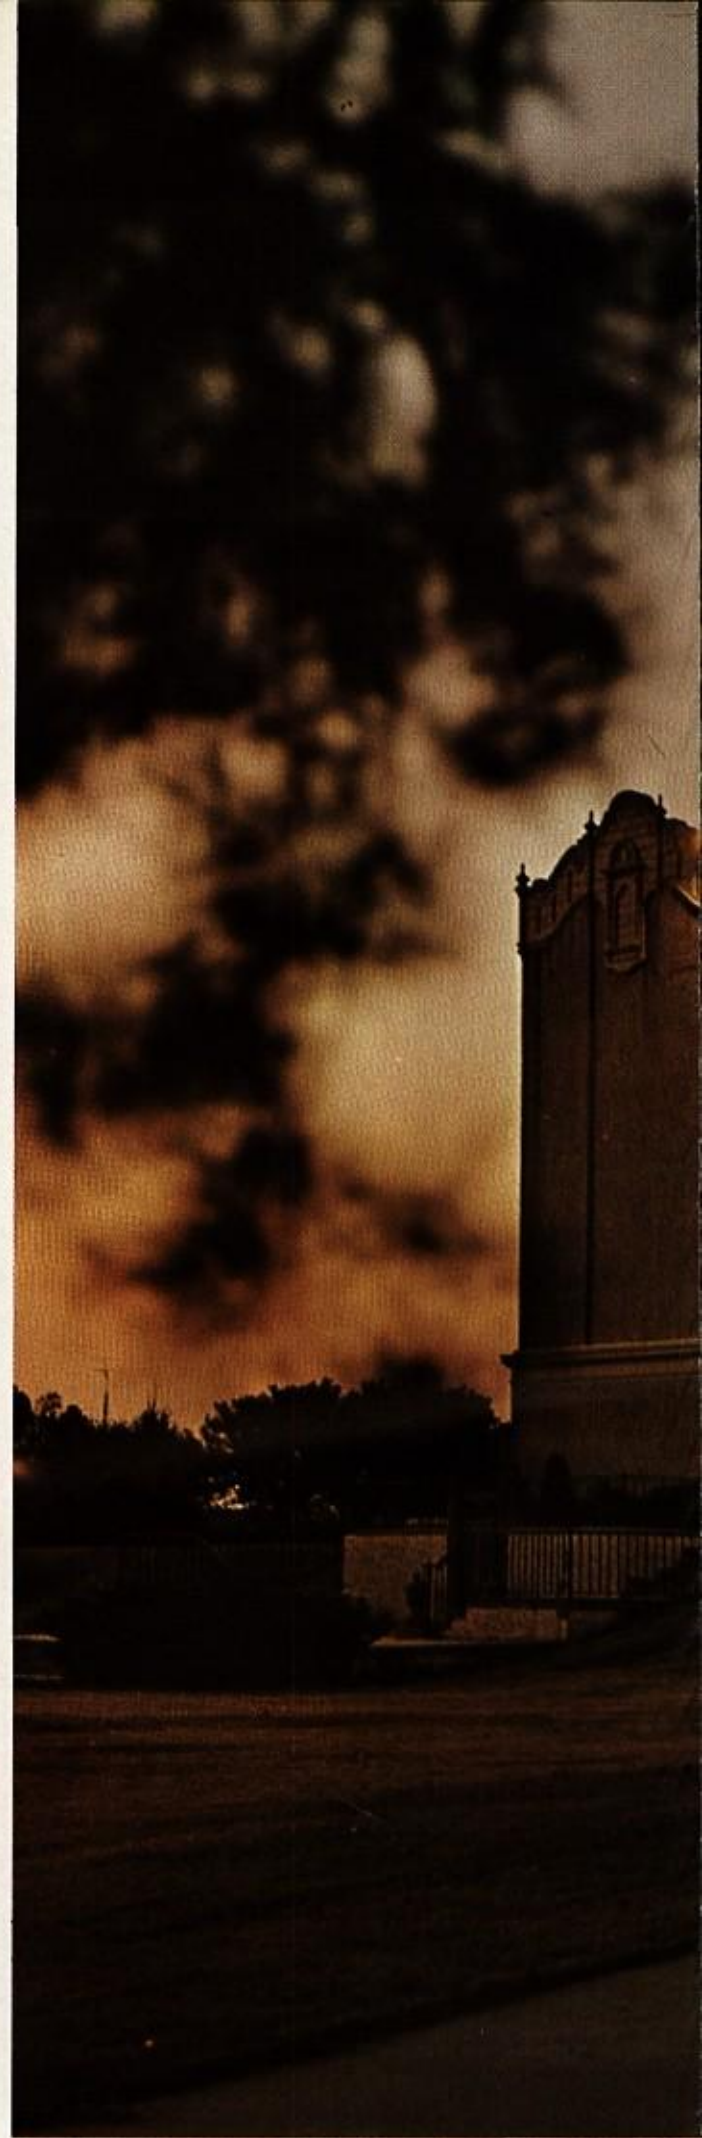

Four Walls

In a large, sand colored building they gather. When the green doors are opened, the world becomes limited by four walls. Each, as he enters, becomes a part of a society in miniature which centralizes his life for three years. He is a member of that youthful community so conveniently defined as the school.

Whether or not he acknowledges it, each student's life is molded and influenced by this academic institution. It may help to mold him into maturity—or he may become an anonymous slave of the comforting shadows.

During his years as a student at Ponca City High School, each may grasp the opportunity to excel in understanding as well as learning—or he may choose to make himself indistinguishable from the shadow of lockers that line the walls.

It is each student's prerogative to interpret the purpose of the four walls—stimulating shelter or prison of confinement?

Alone in a Crowd . . .

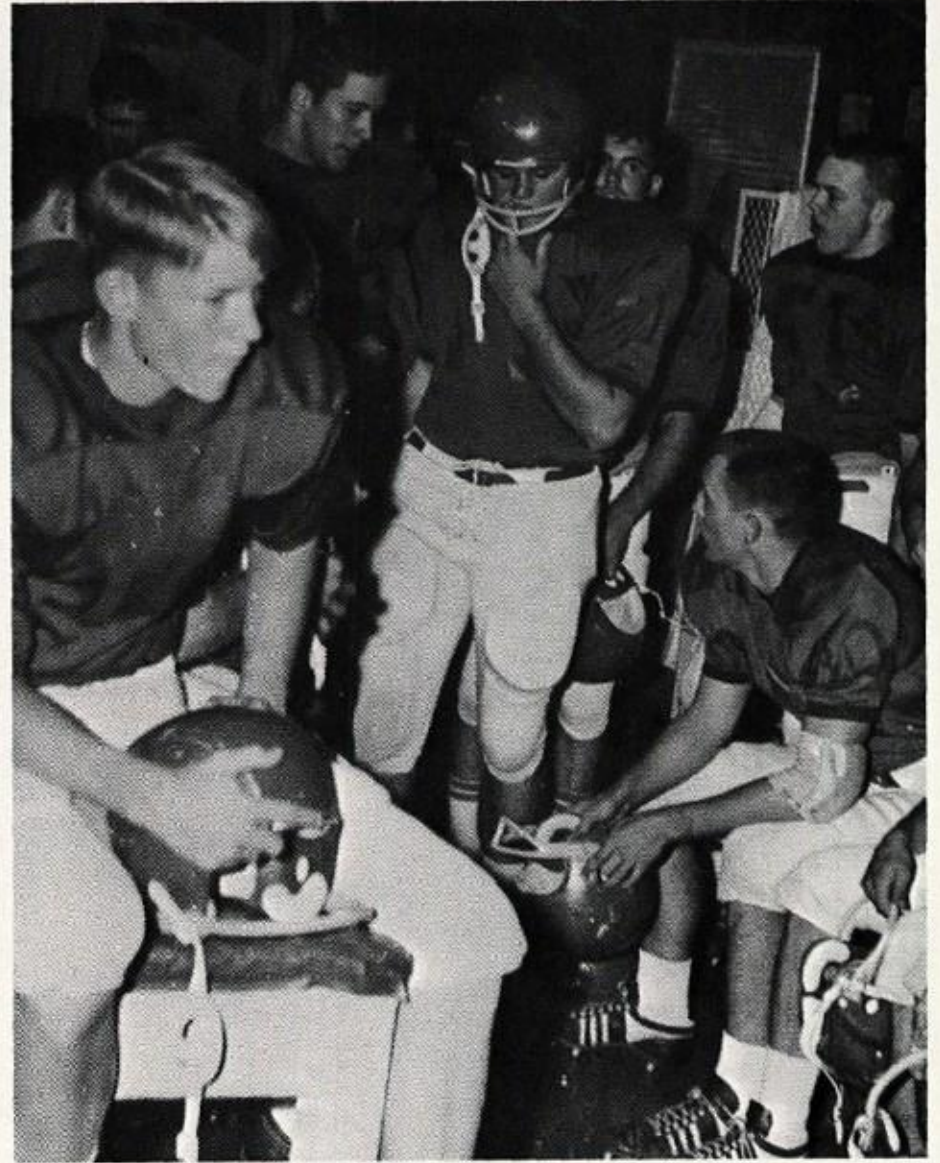

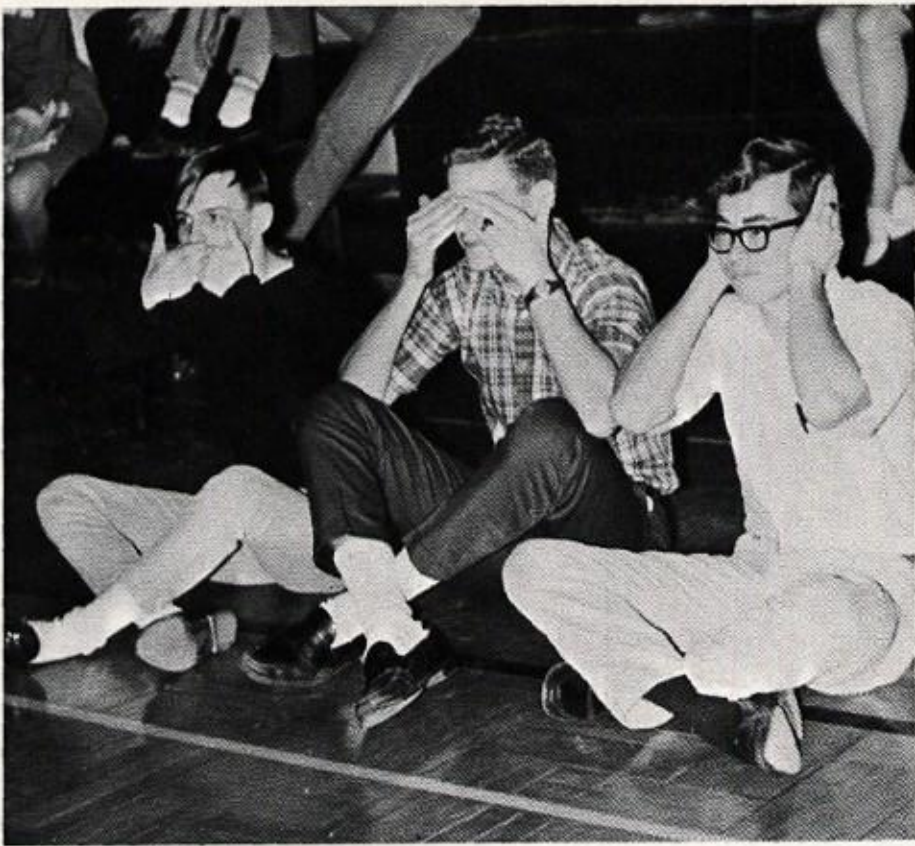

Shoulder to shoulder on the stairways, elbow to elbow in the halls, helmet to helmet on the field—sometimes even eye to eye in the classroom.

But the ultimate decision, the resolution to act—we find no answers but our own. We are human beings. We are gifted with reason. Despite suggestions, assignments, even commands, the choice is ours.

The satisfaction of sincere cheering at sports events, the pleasure of appreciating the cultures of yesterday, the introspectiveness of leadership, the relief at the end of a game well-played, the beautiful glint of understanding—these are ours alone.

From others' mistakes we profit, from others' lessons we learn, but the choices are ours. We are—and always shall be—alone in a crowd. The shadows are clearing . . .

Dedication

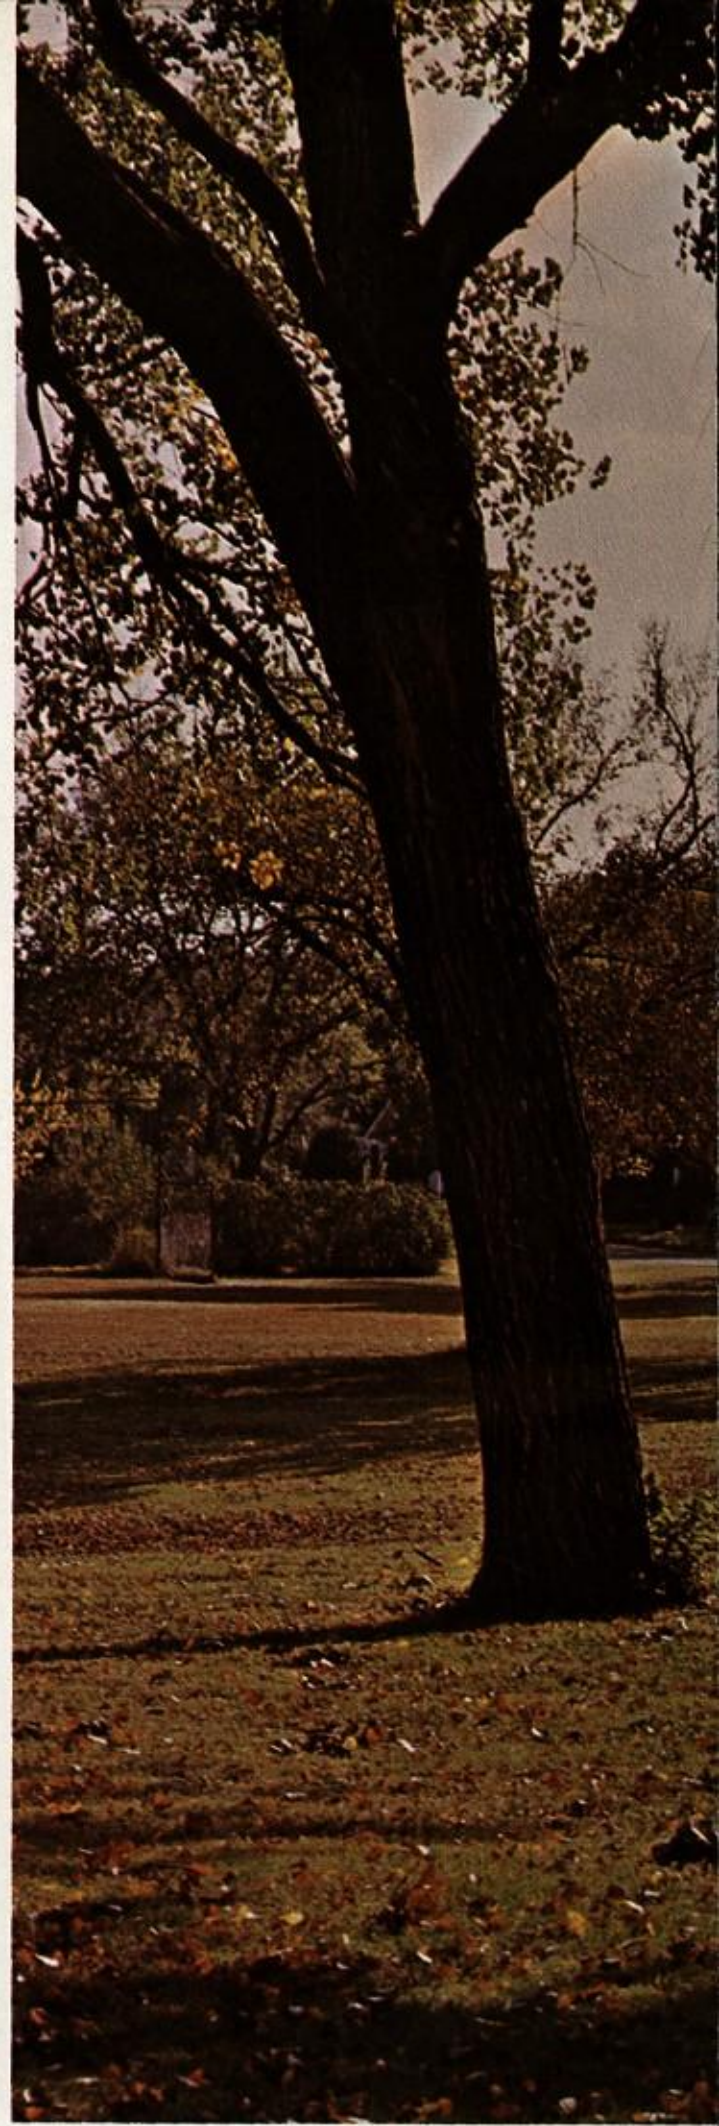

It has been said that youth is but a falling star, plunging into space. A falling star, perhaps, but a moment well worth appreciating and remembering.

Within the light of youth glow the accomplishments, innovations, and far-reaching ambitions of a generation.

So often the importance of youth is underestimated until its years have fled. So often the temporary problems seem to overshadow the satisfactions of today. So often the young do not understand that the power to erase the shadows of doubt lies within themselves.

It is so very necessary in our age of clocks, tranquilizers, super-highways, and bad memories to be conscious of the fact that we, the young people of our day and our country, hold the world's future within our very hands.

To the spirit, the light, the irrepressible beauty of youth we of the 1966 Cat Tale staff pay tribute. To the future and elevation of youth we most hopefully dedicate this yearbook.

Robson Accepts Superintendency's Challenge

DR. ALLEN ROBSON, Superintendent.

The responsibility for guiding Ponca City's young people toward maturity lies with the school system—the school system itself is guided by the superintendent. Dr. Allen Robson has accepted this responsibility.

Formerly principal of West Junior High School, Dr. Robson ascended to his present position at the onset of the 1965-1966 school year. The challenges of new responsibility, the vitality of new associations, and the remarkable effect of fresh ideas upon the minds of men have all contributed to Dr. Robson's success in his first year as leader and spokesman for our educational community.

Education in Ponca City Governed by Board

In order to succeed in his life with others, man must possess a conscience. And, in a narrower sense, the citizens of a community must recognize their conscience—the indestructible conscience of representation.

Elected representatives of Ponca

Citizens are chosen to set the standards and regulations of the community's schools. When a voter complains of the judgment and decisions of his officials, he is condemning the judgment and decisions of his fellow men.

The school board is the conscience

—the conscience of thoughtful consideration and contemplation, and, as each of us must take care to remember, the conscience of the educational system which is exerting an immeasurable influence on our lives.

Top: Dr. Milford Lee, Mr. Cecil Jordan, Mr. Lawrence Dronberger, Dr. Paul Powell, Mr. O. W. Meyer, Mr. Jim Walizer, Mr. Gene Morahan; Bottom: Mrs. Jesse Washam, clerk; Dr. Allen Robson, superintendent; Mr. C. Richard Pitts, Mr. Floyd Martin, president; Mr. R. E. Geren, assistant superintendent; Mr. Charles Duffy, attorney.

Ponca City High School is a burden.
Ponca City High School is a trial.
Ponca City High School is a weight no scales can measure—a weight on the shoulders of three men.

The burden has been accepted—accepted with enthusiasm and dedication. The trial is a challenge—a challenge for minds of vision. And the weight—the weight can never be minimized. Never minimized—but perhaps diminished by the knowledge that the shoulders upholding it are undaunted by its pressure.

The shoulders are strong, but they are not indestructible. They need help; they need patience; they need understanding. They need us.

We are their challenge; we are their responsibility—to us they have devoted their talents, and perhaps their lives. The shoulders are supporting us.

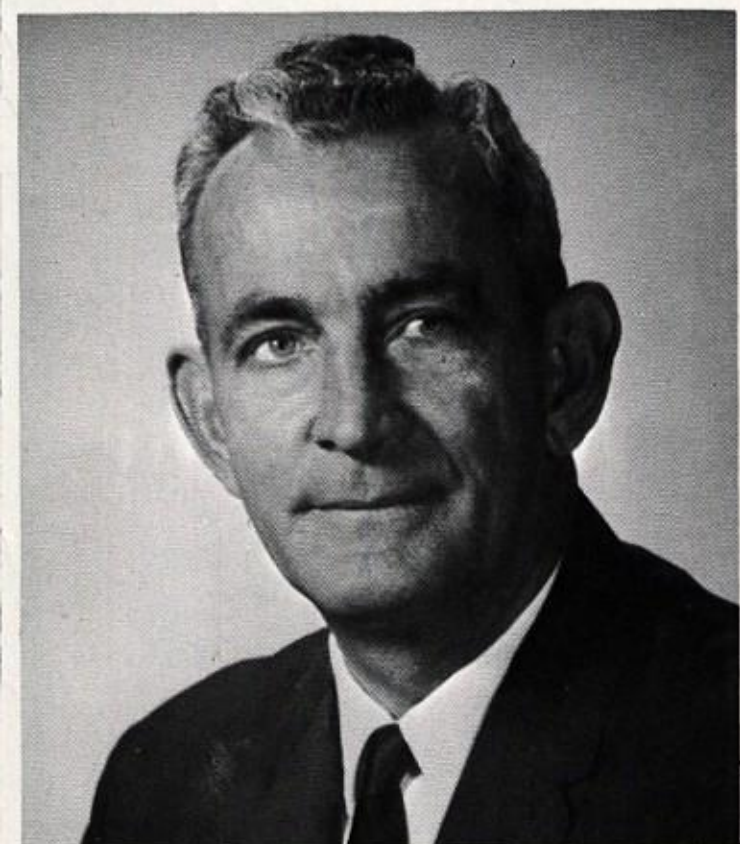

Some of us see their burden as a game. Some of us see it as a stepping-stone. And some of us feign blindness, refusing to see it at all. Ponca City High School is the burden of three men. We are Ponca City High School.

The three men need us—as we recover from our blindness we will realize how badly we needed them.

Curriculum

Although indeterminable factors contribute to the learning atmosphere of a school, one of the relationships which should be encouraged and cultivated is that of the teacher and student.

In our school with its widely varied curriculum, the opportunity awaits to stand on a common ground with experts in divergent fields. Each Po-Hi faculty member is highly trained in the subject he teaches, having completed four or more years in college and subsequent graduate work required by the school system.

The young people of this generation are widely criticized for what their elders call a "lack of communication." This is perhaps valid, for the young must live in a world all their own, a world created by those who condemn it.

If a student tries to understand, he will surely realize that the unfortunate image of youth today can be contradicted by the warm relationships that often ensue from the confrontation of teacher and student.

MRS. LA VELLE
WITTMER
English 11, 12.

I need, you need, he needs, we need, you need, everyone needs a better background in English, and Po-Hi's English department provides the teachers who encourage students' achievements.

The sophomores begin their new phase of school life at Po-Hi with Silas Marner, Julius Caesar, and Tale of Two Cities. Completing their year's work is an extension of all grammar they have learned thus far.

"To be or not to be, that is the question" which plagues the minds of juniors as they struggle through Shakespeare's Hamlet. Short stories, essays, and poetry also fill their time.

Preparing the seniors for college, senior English teachers require a research paper and help the students with a review of all grammar. Macbeth and short stories complete their final year at Po-Hi.

Also included in the English department are the speech, journalism, world literature, and debate classes.

"Speech is the mirror of the soul" discover the students in Miss Quigley's speech classes as they prepare speeches weekly for presentation before their individual classes.

The journalism classes learn that there is more to publishing a newspaper than meets the eye.

World literature students take a trip around the world as they study literature from different countries of the world.

Although personal opinions might differ from the standpoint of the debate, the students in Mr. Surber's debate classes learn to fight pro or con.

The English department has worked for perfection in fully developing the potential of each student.

English Courses Pre-requisite for Diplomas

Cheryl Allen, Christine Croft, and Cheryl Bullard portray the three witches in Shakespeare's Macbeth while Mrs. LaVelle Wittmer, English 12 teacher, looks on.

History Students Strive to Learn From Past

Mr. Floyd Focht, stationed at his familiar lectern, speaks to an attentive government class.

Mr. Bill Eskew, who is teaching his first year at Po-Hi, assigns an American history lesson to his student, Nancy Hicks.

To acquaint students with the past and present civilizations of our world is a goal of the Po-Hi social studies department.

Psychology and sociology students study about man and his interrelationships with civilization and other peoples.

The responsibilities of a citizen to his country are great, as the students in the government, economics, and problems of democracy courses discover.

The topography of the earth, its minerals, bodies of water, and other natural resources, and the effect of these on the peoples of the earth are studied by students in Mr. Hoskin's world geography.

Oklahoma history, American history, Modern European history, and World history give the students an opportunity to study about past civilizations and how they have molded our world of today.

"... and then the Marines landed . . ." Mr. Paul Ingersol explains to David Burnett how World War II was won.

MR. KENNETH WEEMS
Biology.

Science is the key to the future and our science department has kept this in mind through the years as it has strived to better the minds of Po-Hi students in their scientific endeavors.

Insect collections and microscopic observations make up a major part of the year's work in the biology classes.

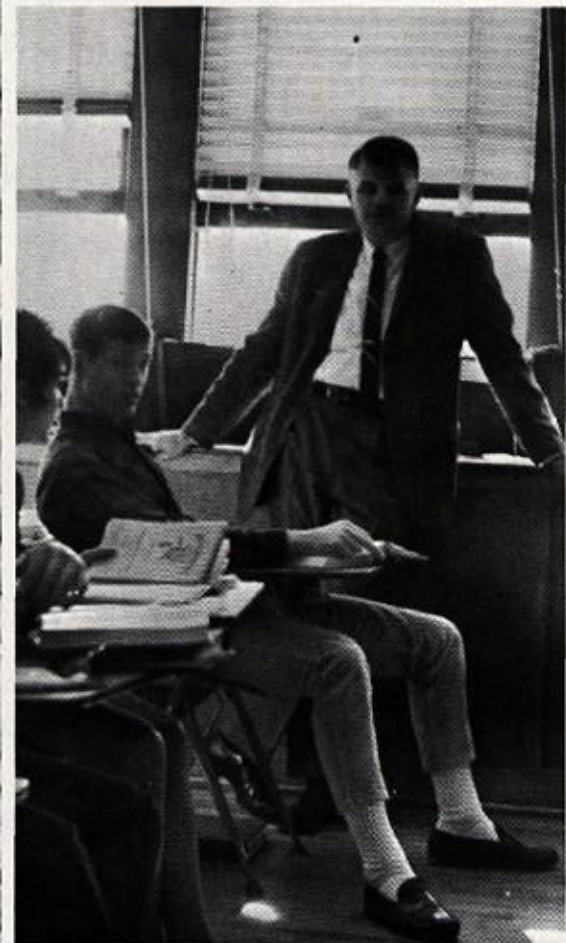

As students struggle through their physics and chemistry courses, they realize the value of a good background in math.

In almost every phase of our daily lives some type of math is used. Our Po-Hi math department realizes this, and each year they try to impress the importance of this on their students.

Practical Math, Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Probability and Statistics are the courses offered.

MSG Trigonometry and Algebra II are taken by the Po-Hi students who want a more advanced form of study.

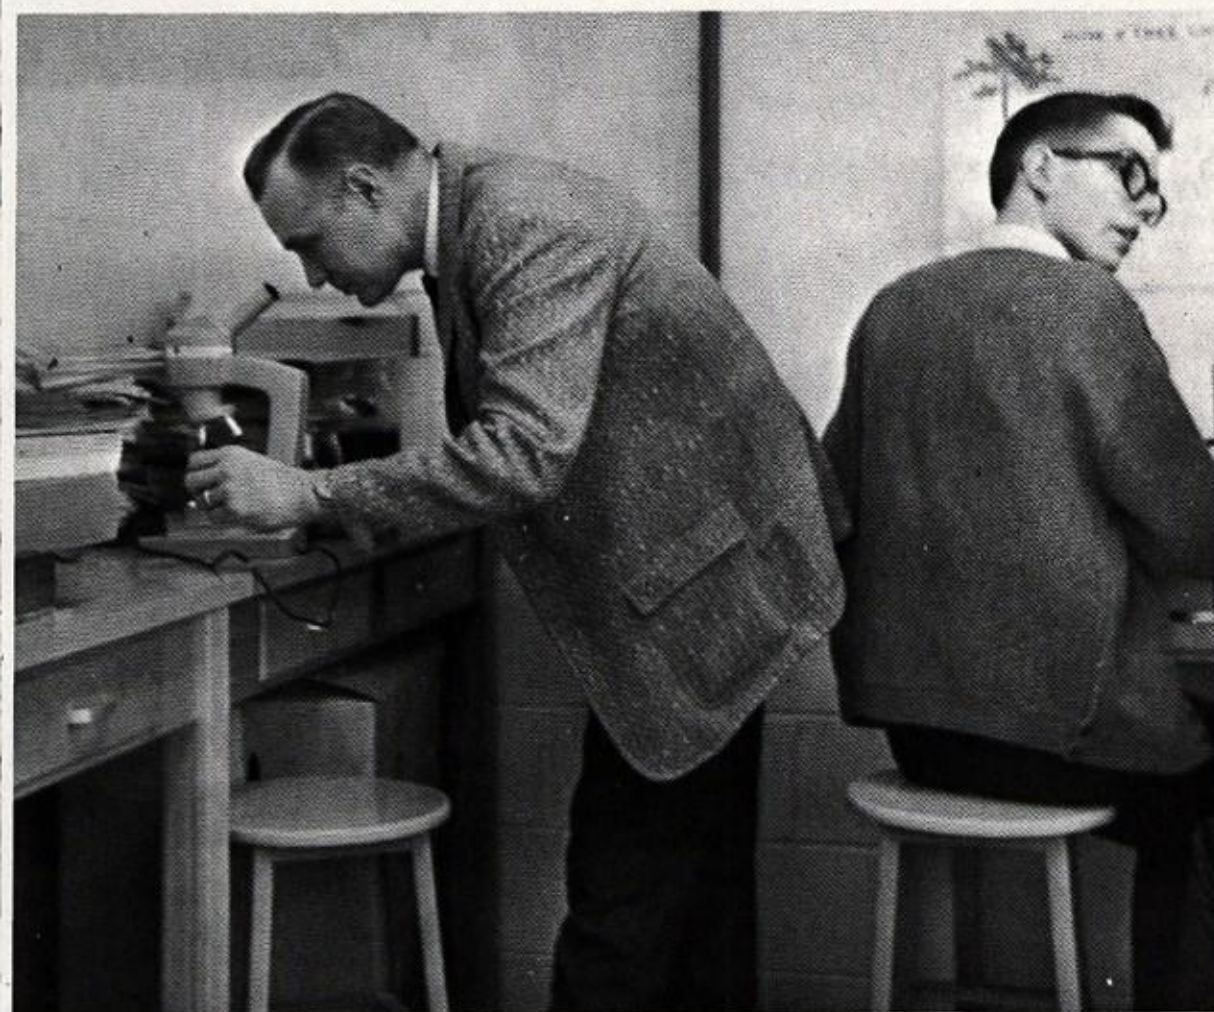

Math Department Offers Advanced Courses

Mr. William Schwenker oversees his class of attentive Algebra II students.

Mrs. Mary Schoenwald and her sophomore geometry students discuss the various possibilities of a proof on the blackboard.

The advanced biology class, taught by Mr. William Garwood spends much of its time inspecting specimens under the microscope.

MISS ELVA CURTIS.
Librarian.

MRS. VELMA MITCHELL.
Counselor; Director of Special Activities.

MISS GLADYS MAIN
Art I, II, III, IV.

MR. HARLON LAMKIN
Assistant Band Director.

Vo Ag students shield their faces as Mr. Gene DeWitt demonstrates an arc-welder.

The earth vibrates with the sound of the spoken word. People in many countries speak different languages, and at Po-Hi a student may learn Latin, Spanish, or French. Through the learning of these languages a student obtains a better understanding and acceptance of other nationalities and their culture.

The art department of Po-Hi impresses its students with the importance of really seeing and not just looking at the beauty of the world. The year is divided into four parts: charcoal drawings, color and design, lettering, and a choice of handicrafts.

All of Po-Hi begins with the sound of music! In the glee club room, in the band and orchestra, the harmony and rhythm of music is heard, taught, and felt.

The Future Farmers of America learn about their chosen profession in the courses offered by the Po-Hi vocational agriculture department.

MR. GORDON MAC
DONNELL
Woodwork; Trade Woodwork.

MR. DON MC ELMURRY
Machine Shop; Trade Machine Shop.

MR. GLEN REHORN
Auto Mechanics.

MR. ELMER SIMONS
Trade Auto Mechanics.

Mr. Glen Rehorn and his auto mechanics boys gather around the motor they assembled.

The industrial arts department, which consists of auto mechanics, woodwork, machine shop, mechanical drawing, and printing, is essential to every school. Since many of the industrial arts students end their formal education with high school, these courses form a basis for the students' careers. Through use of the most modern equipment and techniques, the shop students soon become proficient in the use of wood, electrical equipment, and printing devices. Each boy strives to improve his work and to learn more about each field in industrial arts so that when he begins his life in the community, he knows how he wishes to use his skills. With the training they received at Po-Hi, the industrial arts students find little trouble adapting to the tempo of the community.

Economics is the circulatory system of the world. Trade and commerce promote understanding, good will, and a better way of life. The business education department readies Po-Hi students so they can step smoothly into their places in life.

Courses which help a student to take his place in the business world are typing, bookkeeping, shorthand transcription, consumer economics, office practice, business math, distributive education, and general business.

Commercial and Physical Ed. Prove Challenging to Students

As typing students try to master the essential secretarial skills, Mrs. Jean Mac Donnell offers suggestions.

MR. T. I. MONTGOMERY
Bookkeeping I, II; Record-keeping.

MISS BARBARA SETHNEY
General Business; Distributive Education.

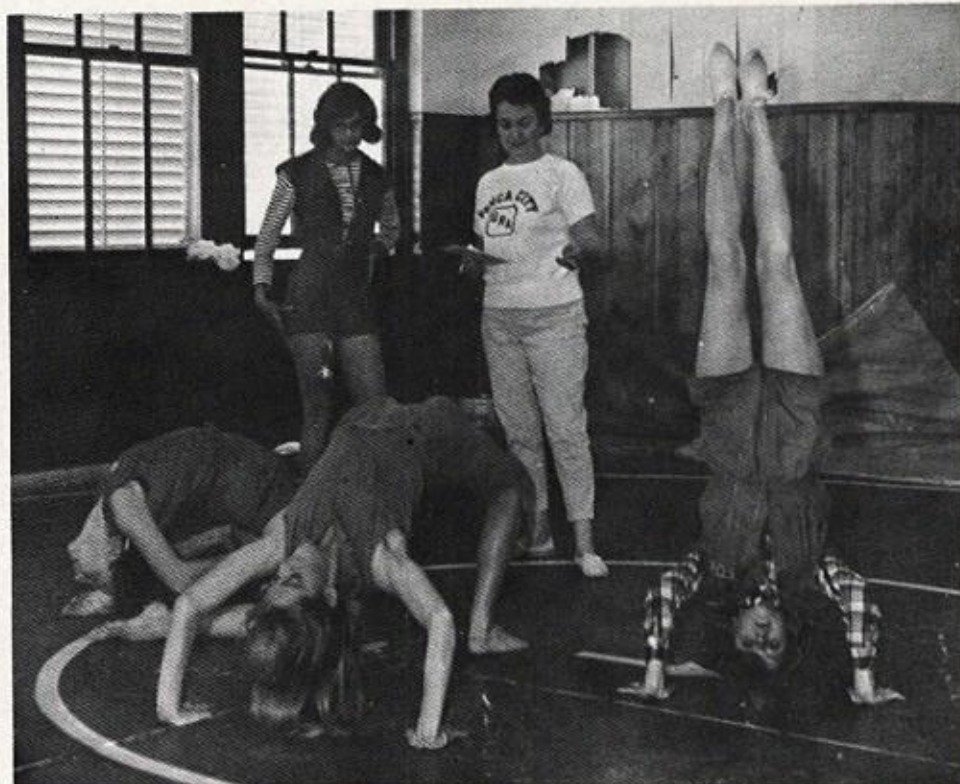

MR. GORDON STANGELAND
Head Track and Cross Country Coach; Bookkeeping I; Consumer Economics.

MISS ADDIE B. TINSLEY
Typing I, II; Office Practice.

Mrs. Mary Louise Cassity, shorthand instructor, dictates to her business education students.

The wrestling team's headquarters is transformed into a tumbling room by Mrs. Marie Moore and her gym students.

The rhythm and tempo of the day's activities are set in the daily gym classes. The physical education departments have the large responsibility of teaching athletic techniques and good sportsmanship while developing bodies through a comprehensive program of calisthenics and team sports. Po-Hi is fortunate to have an experienced staff of instructors who appreciate the necessity of a strong body to complement a sound mind. At Po-Hi a student is not complete unless he is both physically and mentally developed.

At the annual faculty Christmas party Po-Hi instructors present their original parody of Dickens' A Christmas Carol. Those participating were Mrs. Annalee Hughes, Mr. Kenneth Weems, Mrs. Ruth Eskew, and Mr. Bill Leming.

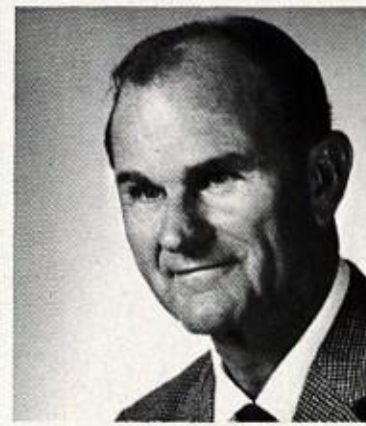

MR. AL CASSINGHAM
Driver Education.

MR. MARK HODGSON
Driver Education.

MRS. MARIE MOORE
Girls' Physical Education.

MR. EARL SULLINS
Business Manager; Physical Education Department Chairman; Boys' Physical Education.

The faculty members who double as counselors are Mr. Paul Ingersol, Mr. Delbert Carlile, Mrs. Ruth Beaubien, Mrs. Barbara Ware, Mrs. Velma Mitchell, and Mr. Tom Wyatt. (Not shown: Mrs. Patricia Clapp).

Counselors Help Students to Interpret Tests

One of the most important aids to a Po-Hi student is the counseling he receives from the seven Po-Hi counselors. The counselors advise students on what subjects to take each year and how to work them into their schedules. They also analyze the scholastic and aptitude test scores for the purpose of giving better advice to the students on their chosen vocation and which college they should attend. These counselors also check on absentees and problems of discipline.

Mr. Wyatt gives instruction to students during National Merit Test.

Mrs. Beaubien offers suggestions to Carol Lunsford who is preparing for college.

Mrs. Mitchell assists Linda Pemberton in planning semester schedule changes.

"Sorry to hear you're sick," says Mrs. Kruse, attendance secretary, to an absent student.

Mrs. Keller types up the weekly calendar as part of her duties as activities secretary.

Secretaries Keep Offices Running Smoothly

" $106 + 319 = 425$," finds Mrs. Heinze as she adds up a column of numbers in the financial office.

In order for any office to be well-organized it needs secretaries. Six efficient secretaries make up the staff of our four main offices. Main office secretaries Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Kruse, and Mrs. Sanders, and Mrs. Heffron, "A" office secretary, keep track of attendance and the student transcripts. Mrs. Keller in the activity office manages inter-scholastic and extracurricular activities. Mrs. Heinze, financial office secretary, takes care of the school's financial matters.

Mrs. Sanders, main office secretary, searches for a certain school document.

In the main office Mrs. Dunn advises Mr. Robert Fienning, representative of Austin College, of his schedule for the day.

Mrs. Heffron, secretary in the "A" building keeps all sophomore records.

Bookstore Offers Answers to Student Needs

Helen Brewer, Carolyn White, Donna Morrell, and Ivan Thompson help Mr. Focht in the bookstore.

Have you ever come to school without your supplies? Do people make fun of your manners at the dinner table? Do you have a term paper due and don't know how to write it? Are your lips chapped and you have a nagging cough and bad cold? Or do you just need a good book to read? You've got problems friend, but cheer up! Our bookstore in room 204 has answers to all these problems and more.

Not only does the bookstore benefit the bewildered student, but it also is a source of revenue for Student Council.

It's open from 8:15 a.m. to 2:20 p.m. under the direction of Mr. Floyd Focht.

Librarians Unlock Doors for Po-Hi Students

Reading is the key to learning and our Po-Hi library is the key to reading. As students, the library is important to us as a tool in our search for knowledge. But how do we use this tool? Because the library is very complex, there is a staff of student librarians in the library before school and throughout the day to help Po-Hi students in using the library.

These librarians serve in many different capacities. Sometime during the year each one works at the main desk checking books out and in, at the reception desk registering students, and at the magazine desk checking out periodicals.

Much office work of Po-Hi is handled by student volunteers. We have approximately fifty-two helpers working under our six office secretaries.

In the Main and A-Building offices students deliver student messages, shuffle attendance slips, and prepare individual schedules.

Activity office workers help schedule and direct extracurricular activities.

Financial office helpers record student fees and other financial matters.

Who doesn't appreciate the student who saves the day with that very timely message, who schedules games for our winning Wildcats, or who sells tickets to our student activities.

Every day our cafeteria provides lunch for about seventeen hundred students. It is one of the best in the state, including both a hot lunch line and a snack bar. This system provides the students with a large variety of foods from which to choose.

Besides serving the students each day, the cafeteria caters three major banquets within the school year: the first teachers' banquet, Schoolmasters' banquet, and College Night banquet.

Sympathetic Students Aid in Infirmary Care

Our infirmary is well-supplied to help students in time of sickness. The department is headed by Mrs. Keller and she is assisted by Mrs. Davenport.

Student-help plays a major role in the infirmary. The girls are trained to take care of students with minor illnesses. Many a headache, cold, or pre-test jitters have been cured by the helpful student assistants. Because many of the young assistants are considering a career in medicine, they find this work appealing. These girls symbolize willing service to our school. The infirmaries are located on the second floors of the Anderson and Howell buildings. There you will find infirmary help ready and willing to assist you.

Infirmary helpers are Top: Linda Smith, Lelia Smith, Teri Hunt, Janice Eby, Jeanie Talbert, Marnie Knight, Janice Sober, Wilma Thornberg, Sandy Brissell, Ricky Dulinsky; Bottom: Sharon Pauley, Rebecca White, Mrs. Laura Davenport, Linda Miller, Kathleen Binkley.

Bus Drivers Prove Indispensable to School

Dependability often remains unheralded though steadfast throughout the years. Such has been the case with the bus drivers who safely transport many Po-Hi students from their homes to the west door of the Howell Building. Despite inclement weather, the drivers and their buses arrive at 3:15 P.M. to return their passengers.

Each is an independent business person. The school system hires the bus drivers, many who have been employed in this position for several generations of students.

Although the bus drivers may not be duly recognized for their service, the Po-Hi students in daily contact with them understand their indispensability to the school system.

Po-Hi's bus drivers are back row: Dan Ward, C. D. Dewberry, Clifford Schilling, J. E. Whitfield, Floyd Howell, H. H. Porter, Felix Merciez, William Howell; Middle: Evelyn Howell, Mary Brownfield, Lee Harney, Raymond Ham; Richard Swords, H. A. Garrett, C. W. Warren; Bottom: Grace Harney, Vera Harney, Zelma Weaver, Leo Simmons, R. E. Geren, assistant superintendent of schools.

Custodians Maintain Top Condition in School

Custodians of the school are Top: Matthew Moore, Mose Goldman, Frank Bewley, and Arlis Eberle; Middle: Floyd Cobb, Charley Potts, and L. L. Cloudd; Bottom: Helen Watson, Laura Davenport, and Stella Dotson.

Matthew Moore, one of Po-Hi's trusted custodians, makes his daily rounds through the spotless halls.

Have you ever noticed how clean and well kept our school is? This is all due to our fine custodians. Many times during the ordinary school day these patient workers clean up after our inconsiderate littering.

This hard-working crew is always on the job keeping our school in top shape all year round. They symbolize ready and willing help to everyone.

Classes

It has been said that man's primary growth occurs through his relationships with others. Accepting this as true, one would find that the school in general and the classes in particular provide unlimited opportunity for advancement.

In the classrooms individuals meet on a common ground—a "No Man's Land" of safety for all. In an academic atmosphere young people learn to assert themselves, to say the unexpected words, to drop the shadowy cloak of self-consciousness.

Some courses are required—others elective. Their significance lies not so much in the knowledge they impart as in the social adjustment they encourage. The attitude is discouraged, but the truth remains: accumulated knowledge is secondary. Our goal is to learn—to learn to ask, to forgive, to dream and to live.

Peering out of the shadows are the Senior Class officers Mike Thompson, President, Jim Beaubien, Vice-President, and Sigrid Spencer, Secretary with their sponsor, Mrs. Ruth Beaubien.

Seniors Make Preparations for Future Life

To a senior, his last year in high school is the end of one life and the beginning of another. The end of twelve years of formal education and the beginning of a career. It is the end of his adolescence and the beginning of his young adulthood. It is the end of his being sheltered by family and the beginning of his standing alone.

A senior has an important decision to make during his last year in high school. He must decide on a career and determine how and where he will get the necessary training for this career. The boys must decide when they wish to fulfill their military obligations.

Once an individual is a senior in high school, he is old enough to do many things. He is old enough to plan for his future and see that his plans are fulfilled. He is old enough to make his own decisions and to have his own opinions on religion and politics. More important, he is old enough to be responsible for himself, his actions, his thoughts, and his future.

The senior is truly coming out of the shadows—out of the shadows of the influence of school, family, church, and community—and into the world on his own.

"Come on, Baby, let the good times roll!" wails "The Vagabonds", a band composed of seniors, at an after-game victory dance.

Mr. Focht Terminates Long Teaching Career

Mr. Focht ponders over a government chapter before lecturing to his class.

For thirty-seven of his forty-one years as a teacher, Mr. Focht has served Po-Hi in various capacities, as a teacher, department chairman, senior class advisor, student council sponsor, supervisor of the bookstore, and director of the summer school program. He served two terms as president of the Ponca City Teachers Association and the Oklahoma Association of Classroom Teachers. He is now executive secretary of the Northern Oklahoma Education Association and the Oklahoma Association of Student Councils. In Ponca City he has taken an active part in his church and civic clubs. Many students have passed from high school into adulthood after being guided and directed by a fine example, Mr. Floyd Focht.

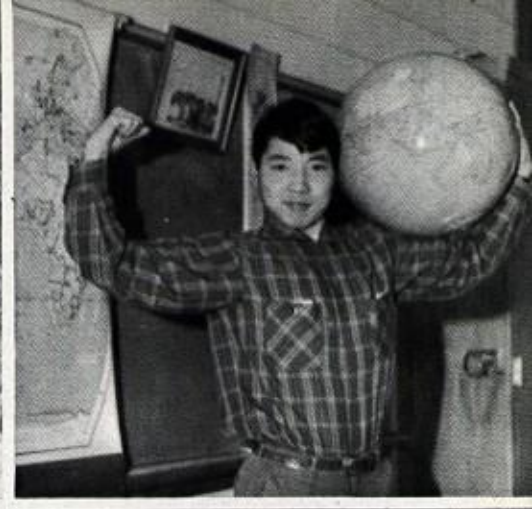

Inspecting the caps and gowns, which were purchased by the school at Mr. Focht's suggestion, is part of his preparation for the annual graduation exercises.

As creator and supervisor of the bookstore Mr. Focht regularly checks the selection of paperback books.

Mr. Focht and Mr. Charles Duffy discuss their experiences as members of the Oklahoma Legislature.

To the Students of Po-Hi;

This year at Po-Hi certainly has been a wonderful experience to me. I met new people and new ideas, and I exchanged ideas. I did new things and saw new things.

To tell the truth, I didn't know where I was coming. "Ponca? What a funny name for a town," my friends said. Well now I can go back and say, "I've been to the best state and the best high school in the U.S. (give and take a little) I'm indeed glad I came to Po-Hi with its nice people. I didn't get to meet all the students at Po-Hi, but I'm sure they are all nice, too. In fact, I know they are."

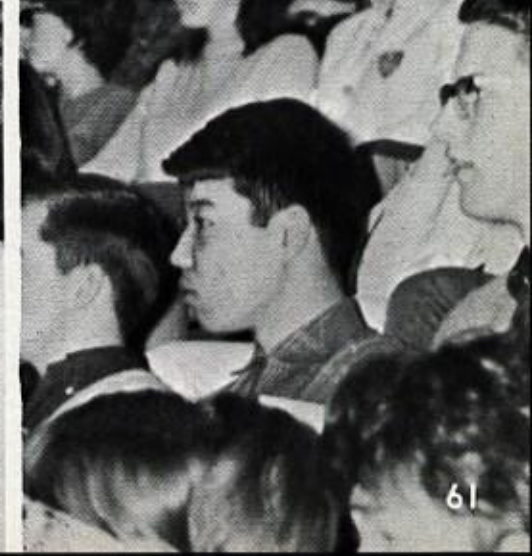

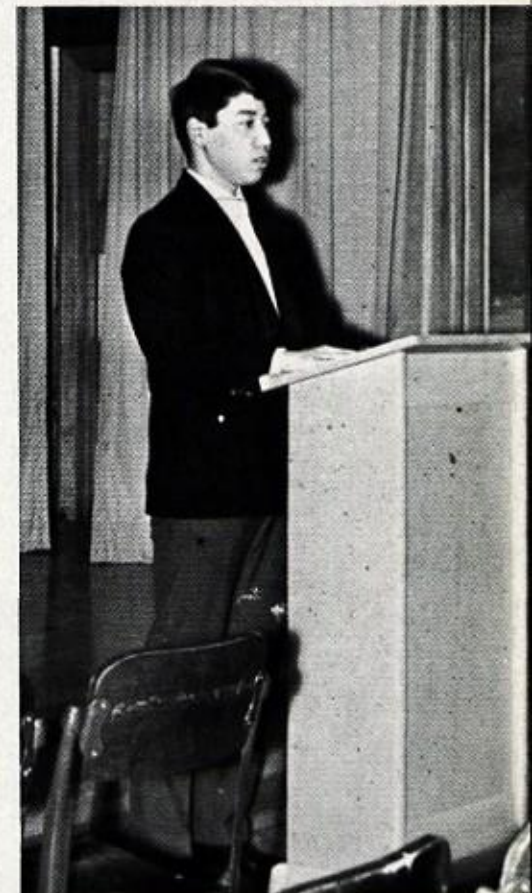

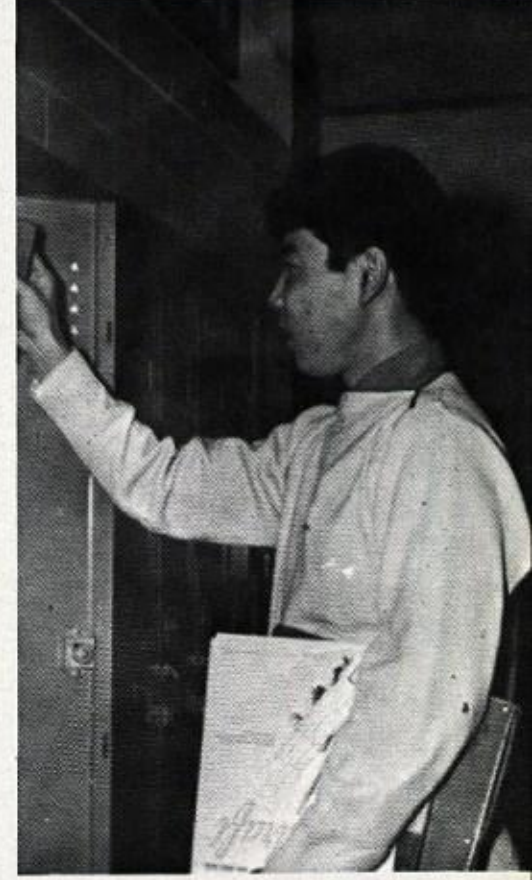

After I go home, I won't have a chance to meet most of you again. So I want to thank you all now for your kindness. Thinking back of this whole year, I remember everything very clearly, and these of course will be my best memories. I'll always remember that I have a second family, the Hassells and a second home town, Ponca City. I also hope you will remember that little Japanese boy who was with you all last year. And of course you should remember that you have a good friend in Japan across the sea.

Well I guess it's time to say goodbye and go back to that grueling six days a week schedule.

Sayonara.

Yours always,

Yasuo Okamoto
ヤスオ オカモト

The officers elected to guide and lead the Junior Class in 1966 are James Ford, President, Pam McMellon, Secretary, Mrs. Velma Mitchell, Sponsor, and Robin Riley, Vice-President.

Jrs. Rest Securely in Advantageous Position

As sophomores we came to Po-Hi, ready for the experiences awaiting all newcomers. At first we were filled with awe at the big seniors; we were filled with fear when we met the tough juniors. And then we learned what they were really like.

As seniors, we will be sure of ourselves; our status will be set as the top men on the totem pole. We will be swamped with college pamphlets, college tests, and other activities. We will be caught up in the big hustle and bustle known to all seniors, but there will always be the thought that next year we will be starting another chapter in the book of life.

But as juniors we occupy a safe and comfortable place, secure in the knowledge that we need have none of the familiar sophomore problems nor none of the rushing, hectic life of the seniors—just a nice, leisurely existence in the shadows of Po-Hi.

But we also have responsibilities to the other two classes—as leaders to the sophomores, as followers for the seniors. The Junior officers center most of their jobs around the planning of the prom, which the Junior class hosts each year. The junior home-rooms get into the action by giving suggestions and assisting in the decorating and other such things. Besides using the homes of selected juniors for the pre-prom parties, the junior class president is master of ceremonies at the coronation of Prince and Princess Po-Hi, while the other two class officers assist in the actual crowning.

The outstanding event at the Prom for the juniors is the turning of their class rings. This marks a dramatic point in their high school life since it signifies the time in the very near future when they will reign over Po-Hi.

Sophomores Anticipate Future of Opportunity

Few thresholds lead the way to so many opportunities as entrance into high school. Upon this metamorphosis into young adulthood, the student is no longer considered a child.

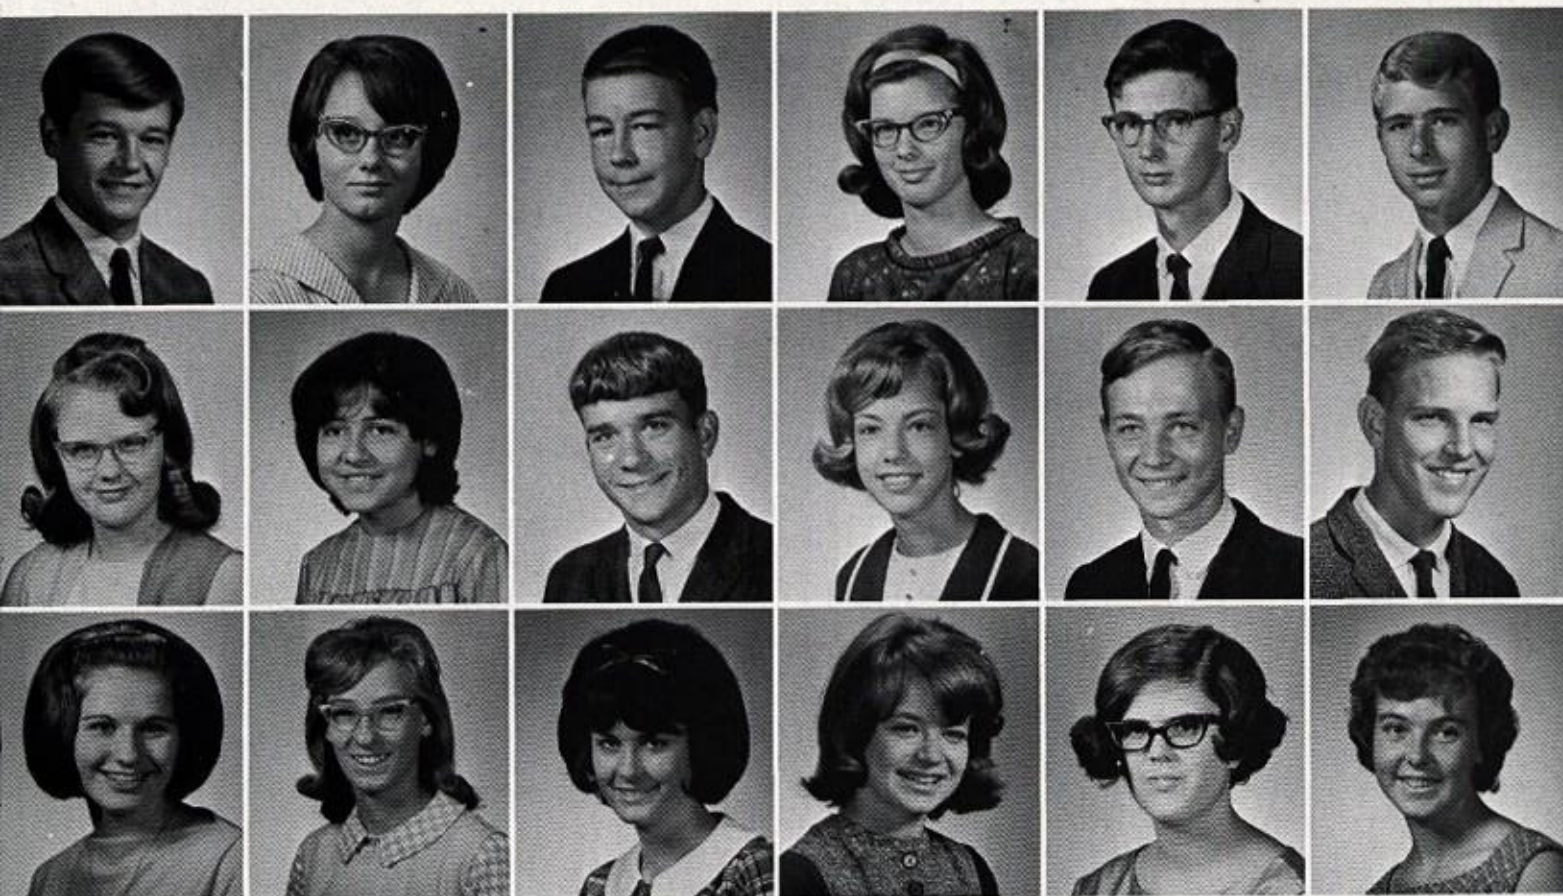

Decisions, choices, opinions—the high school student is not commanded to act. The fortunate student will be challenged, forced to think, to learn that school can be more than a game “out on the hill”.

Adjustment is essential to each sophomore, for, no matter how well-prepared, the impact cannot be anticipated. It is necessary for him to chart his course—to detach himself from the harried crowds to determine where he stands. A wise sophomore will spend much time within the shadows of his own indecision—he will save himself from the tightening grip of “too much too soon” that destroys so many young people.

During the first year at Po-Hi it is tempting to become engulfed in the whirl of outside activities, school spirit, and juniors and seniors. The future appears only vaguely through a mist of laughter and excitement; the responsibilities of college, military obligations, and marriage seem worlds away. But the next two years pass more quickly than many realize. If a sophomore fails to clear his vision, to fight his way through the shadows, he will find the road to tomorrow an endless uphill climb.

Organizations

Education is compulsory, but the fringe benefits—the so-called “extracurricular activities” are not. These fringe benefits—as all opportunities—are there for the asking. An organization cannot compel participation—it can only stand on its merits and receive those who choose to join.

And what are these merits? Why are all young people encouraged to involve themselves in group activities?

They reputedly develop each person's innate leadership ability—they blaze the trail toward cooperative participation. Indeed this is true, but it is imperative to remember that these admirable accomplishments can be achieved only if the organization has a purpose—an ultimate goal—and its members strive to live up to it.

Ideally, a student joins an organization in order to find pleasure—not acceptance. Is our school ideal?

The juniors who will edit the 1967 Cat Tale are top: Gail Nearing, Stan Roebuck, David Burnett, Marc Nuttle, Sally Burns; bottom: Marianne Morey, and Jane Venzke.

The ideal yearbook is planned with the purpose of recording and preserving the daily events of a school year. It is so natural for staff members to begin working with far-reaching ideas and fall into the unfortunate pattern of settling for less than perfection.

It is much easier to be satisfied with an unsuitable picture or hurriedly prepared copy than to take the time to think.

The 1965-66 Cat Tale staff is an exception to this fate, but despite whatever shortcomings may appear in this volume, every effort has been made to produce for the Po-Hi student body a yearbook they will enjoy in the future as well as today.

Jim Beaubien, layout editor, plans a rough draft for the football pages.

Photographer-in-chief Dan Crummett spends much of his time in the dark room developing and printing pictures.

Staff Strives for Top-Rating 1966 Yearbook

Associate editor Debby Schlessman created the drawings used in the 1966 Cat Tale.

The Cat Tale copy editor, Myra Dritch, adds the finishing touches to a copy sheet.

Awaits Senior Gi

To honor the nation's ideal high school senior girl is the purpose of the annual Junior Miss Contest. The local competition, sponsored by the Jaycees, will be climaxed November 6 in the Auditorium.

Contestants will be judged on talent, youth fitness, poise, personality, and the person interview, which is the most important.

The top four winners will be awarded trophies, with a scholarship going to Ponca City Junior Miss. Other prizes will be given to the girls winning in each of the four divisions of competition. Awards will be given to girls who enter.

Girls Enter for Various Reasons
"I feel that in a contest like this one, no one is a loser; everyone gains from the experience," commented Searcy Daniels.

Linda Skinner is entering the contest because for many years she has been eligible.

Student Council Edits Directory

Work on the 1966 Student Council Directory, annual Student Council project, is under way. Within the nine weeks mark as a tentative deadline, the booklet will cost 35c when ordered and 50c when purchased after publication.

In charge of publication are Diane Murphy, chairman, Angela Jacobs, Karen Lansdown, Beth Northcutt, Dennis Sells, and Linda Skinner.

Printed by Skinner and Son at a cost of $6.10 per page, the book will use the same cover design as the 1953 directory and the same grade of paper for the cover as the 1961 directory, because the committee thought it to be more durable.

Plans Journey Game

The band will leave for their 30 to 40 per cent halftime of a game between the Ponca and Oakland.

Jane Stevenson Columnist

The band will leave from the school directly after marching and being host to the state marching contest. Approximately 175 band members and ten parents will go in the five chartered buses to Kansas City where they will stay in the Muelebach Hotel. They plan to arrive around 9:00 that evening.

A worship service will be held in the hotel ballroom on Sunday morning. The band will be at the football field almost three hours before game time so they can go through their show with the NBC cameramen.

ected since people are as varied as their ideas.

AFS hosts Maureen Maxson and Phil Maxson point out the next tour stop to AFS exchange students Suzanne Vos from Australia and Walli Ben Ahmed from Afghanistan.

During July 1965 the AFS'ers arranged accommodations for 80 foreign exchange students who stopped in Ponca City for three nights.

AFS sponsored a dance on February 25 after the Tulsa-Rogers basketball game.

The first week of May the American Field Service Club was in charge of the "AFS Week" which includes an annual assembly.

AFS also helps pay for a class ring for the foreign exchange student.

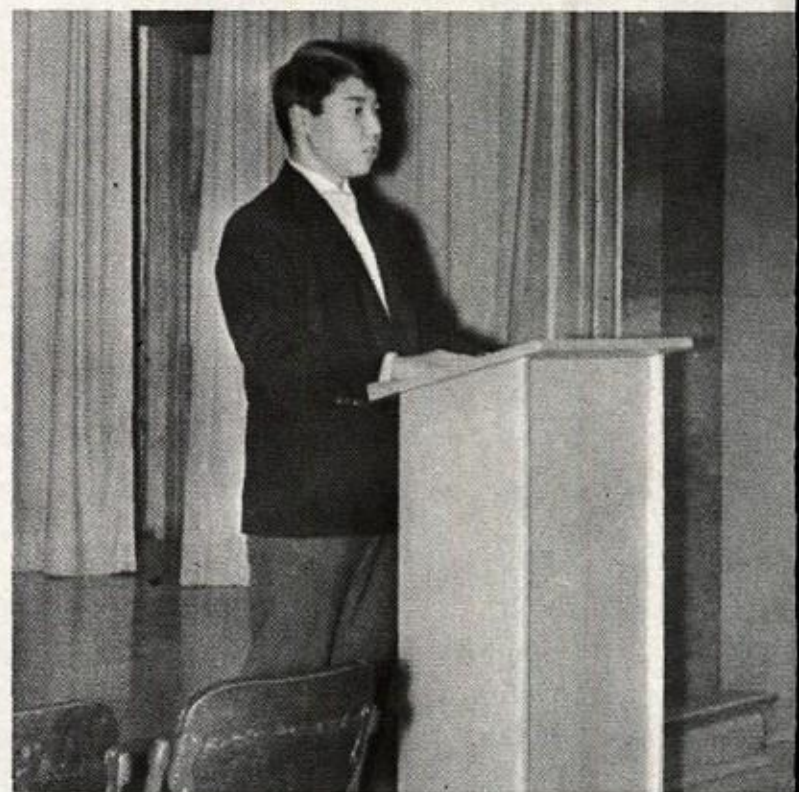

AFS Club officers are Pam Huth, president; Diann Cowling, vice president; and Kathy White, treasurer.

Dynamiters, Nucleus of Explosive Cat Spirit

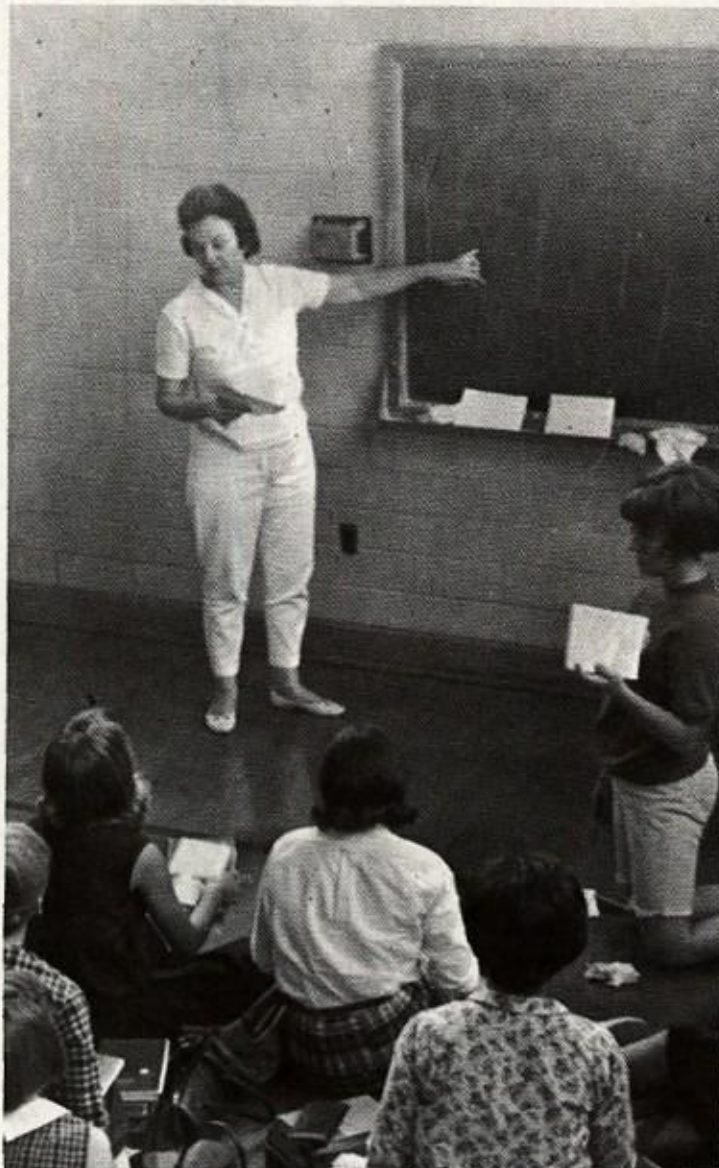

Dynamiter officers are Searcy Daniels, President; Connie Stotts, Vice-President; Linda Pavlik, Treasurer; Ann Lembke, Secretary; and Mrs. Marie Moore, Sponsor.

Dynamiters are the core of Po-Hi's great spirit! All their activities are aimed at whipping up the enthusiasm to a red hot intensity as our boys carry off victories and again establish Po-Hi as an outstanding sports school.

Red and white dominated the dynamiters' cheering section and the field as they adorned it with colorful designs during the football season. The stands burst with enthusiasm that overflowed to the whole stadium as the girls leaped and cheered in response to the cheerleaders and Po-Hi advances on the field.

They led downtown spirit parades and added enthusiasm to the pep assemblies. As their final tribute to the boys, they served at the football banquet.

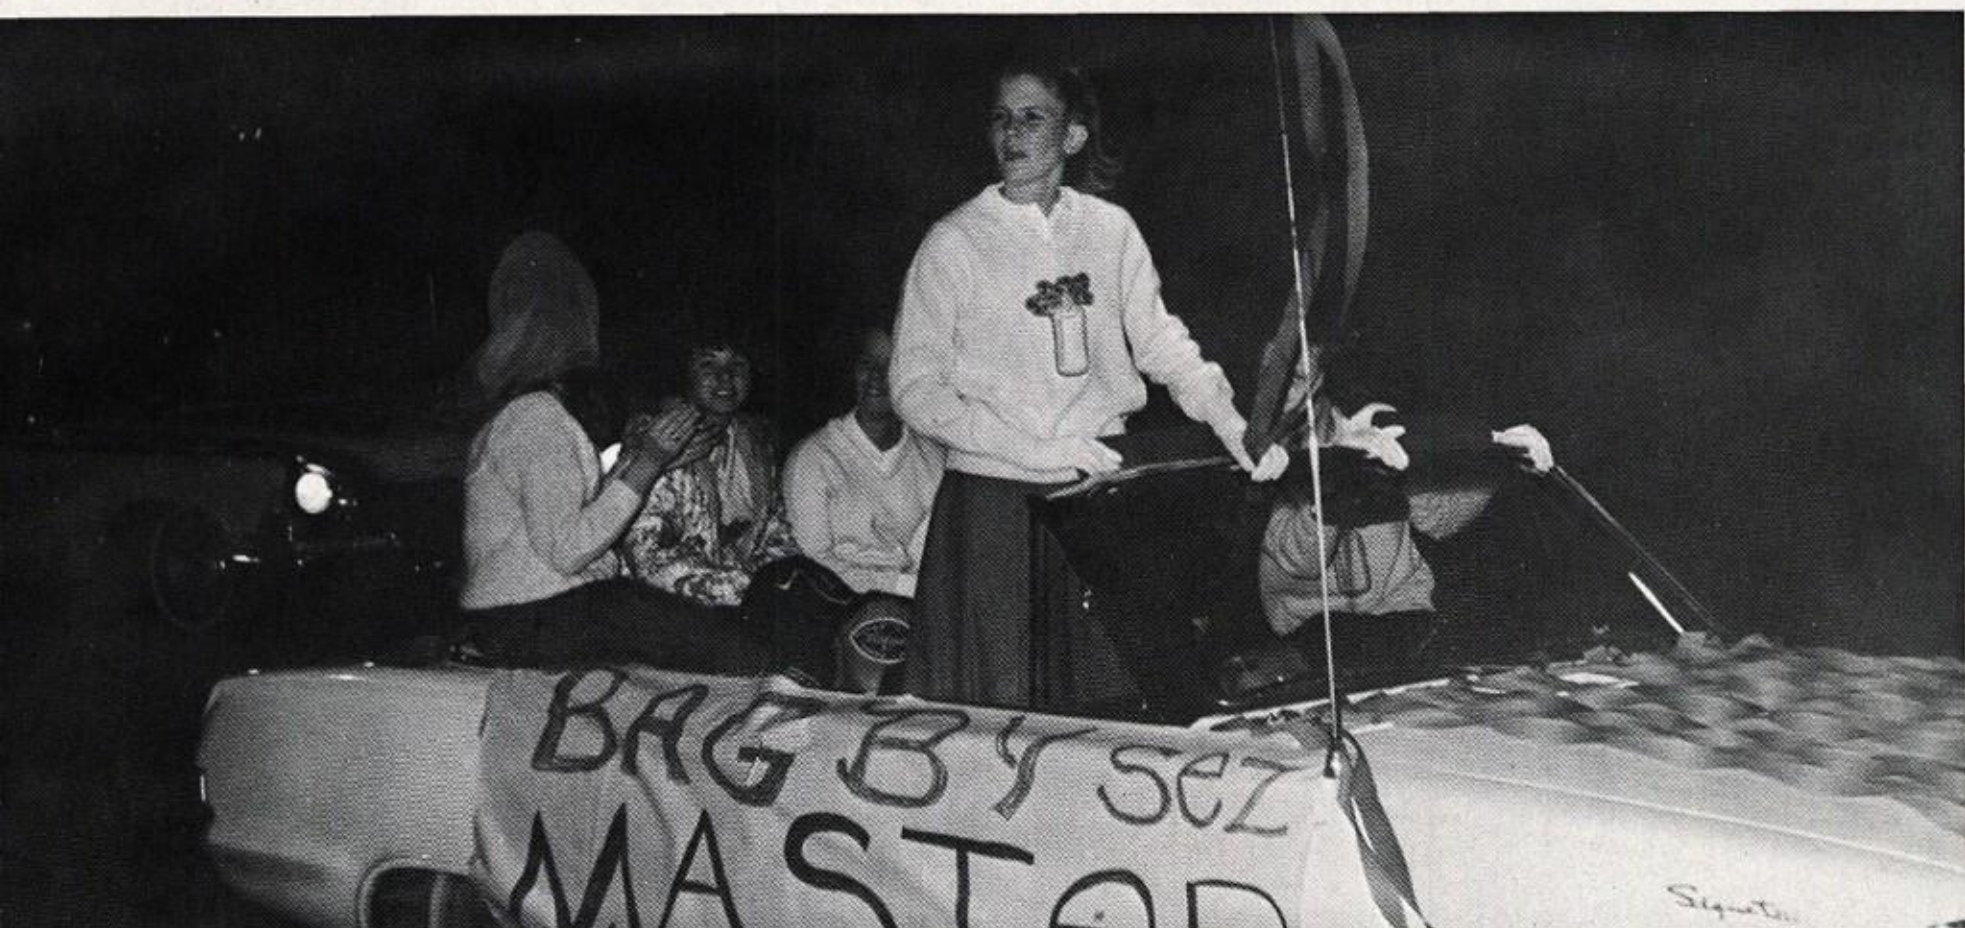

Continuing to hope, pull, and cheer, they encouraged our wrestlers and basketball players to great accomplishments.

Cheerleaders Boost Wildcats on to Victories

By sponsoring pep assemblies held throughout the year and by initiating the tradition of the "Spirit Jugs", our Po-Hi cheerleaders have proved that they have more spirit than ever this year. The cheerleaders award each week the "Spirit Jugs" to the class and to the homeroom showing the most school spirit.

Chess-mates Checkmate Fellow Chess Fans

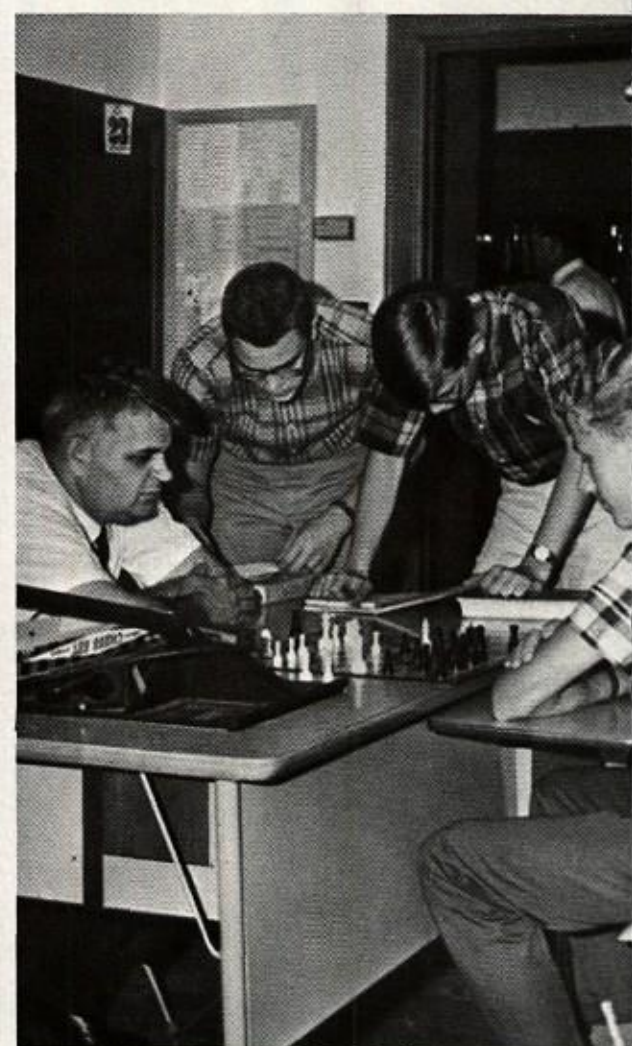

The Chess Club had a unique way of choosing its officers for the year. A tournament was held within the club. The winner became president, the runner-up, vice-president, and the winner of the losers' bracket, secretary.

The president was Tommy Every, Larry Vickers was vice-president, and secretary was Mike Eaton. Mr. Schwenker served as sponsor.

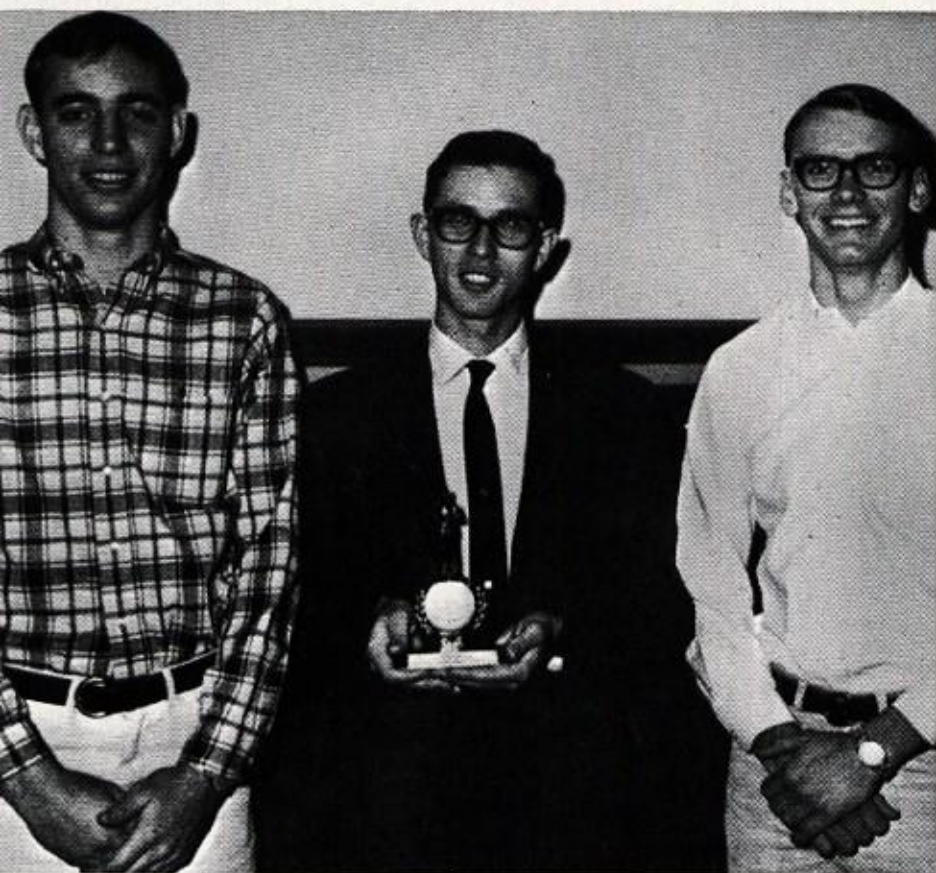

Larry Vickers ponders a move in the tournament with the Chess Club at Continental.

Adrian Stevenson endeavors to show sponsor Mr. Schwenker the why's and wherefore's of the chess game.

Debate Class Journeys to State Tournament

Larry Butcher, Mr. Surber, and George Wittmer pose with the trophy won by the boys at the Lawton tournament.

Mrs. Edna Claunch, Stillwater debate coach, presents the first place plaque to George Wittmer and Larry Butcher at the Stillwater Invitational Tournament.

The Debate Club has spent an active year participating in various state tournaments. The most important tournaments included the regional tournament at Alva and the state tournament at Oklahoma University.

Each debate contains 4 speeches: first and second affirmative, which makes up one team, and first and second negative, which composes the second team. No heated arguments are involved in good debate. The speeches are ways of relating facts which serve to prove the team's theory of the subject.

FTA Shows Appreciation of Po-Hi's Teachers

The purpose of FTA is to interest students in the various fields of teaching.

Throughout the year they have guest speakers who come and give talks on subjects pertaining to teaching. Mr. Ford gave them a talk on "What I Look for in a Good Teacher."

The organization sponsors several service projects during the school year. This year they worked for the Special School making sets of word flash cards and number flash cards.

During teacher appreciation week they gave certificates of appreciation to the teachers here at PO-HI.

Future Journalists Host Annual Press Banquet

The Future Journalists of America is aimed to interest students of ability in journalism as a career. The club works to achieve this aim in many ways.

Speakers from fields of journalism explain to the members new concepts and operations now in practice. Mr. Gareth Muchmore from the Ponca City News was a guest speaker this year.

Activities during the year were two bake sales to raise money for the annual banquet, and a tour of the Ponca City News office.

Club Competes on County and State Levels

This year the Future Farmers of America is divided into five judging teams. They are livestock, crops, dairy, meats, and land. These teams have been busy participating in fairs on the county and state level with various types of livestock. They brought many honors to our school and received much self-satisfaction.

Under the guidance of Mr. DeWitt, the aim of the Future Farmers of America is to promote agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship among its members.

Mr. Ford offers his congratulations to the FFA Sweetheart, Carolyn Dorf, at the FFA Sweetheart Banquet.

FHA Members Learn Tips in Homemaking

The Future Homemakers of America provides opportunities for additional experiences in planning inexpensive ways to carry out home activities. Throughout the year speakers come and give talks in the various fields of homemaking and economizing. At Christmas a speaker from the House of Fabrics came and gave a demonstration on making gifts. A speaker from the Homemaking Department of OSU gave a talk on homemaking.

They attended the FHA state rally in March. To raise the money for the trip they sponsored various projects. The girls made their own clothes for this rally.

Club Is Active in State, District Conventions

The purpose of the Library Club is to give the members a greater understanding of libraries and their service to the community. The club renders service to our school library.

The Library Club also sponsors the bookworm breakfast for the faculty. At this breakfast new books are displayed for the teachers to see.

The members of the club are active in both the state and district organizations. They attended the state convention at Norman in April, and the district convention at Enid in the fall.

Nature Drenches Science Club's Field Trip

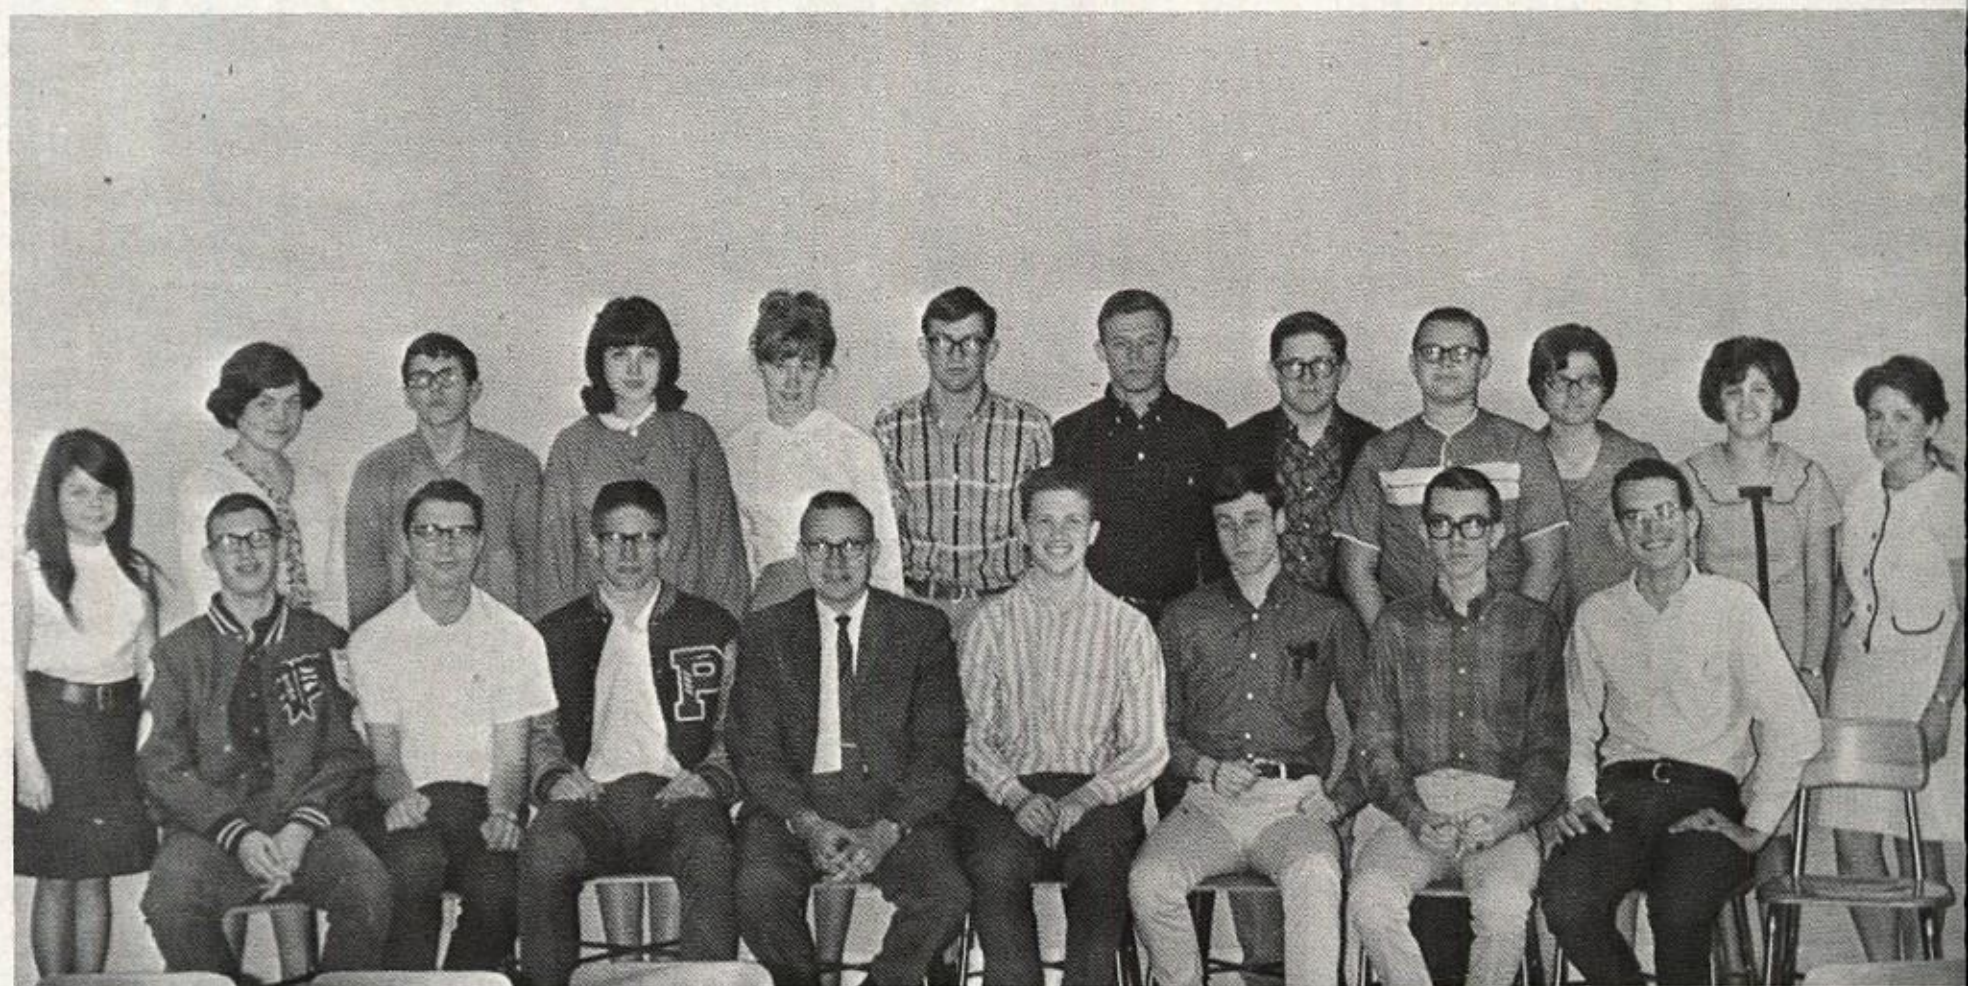

The food for the field trip was exceptional.

Highlight of this year's activities for the Science Club members was the Roaring River field trip. As last year, rain heralded their arrival and departure. The trip's climax was reached when Mr. Ingersol was thrown into the river.

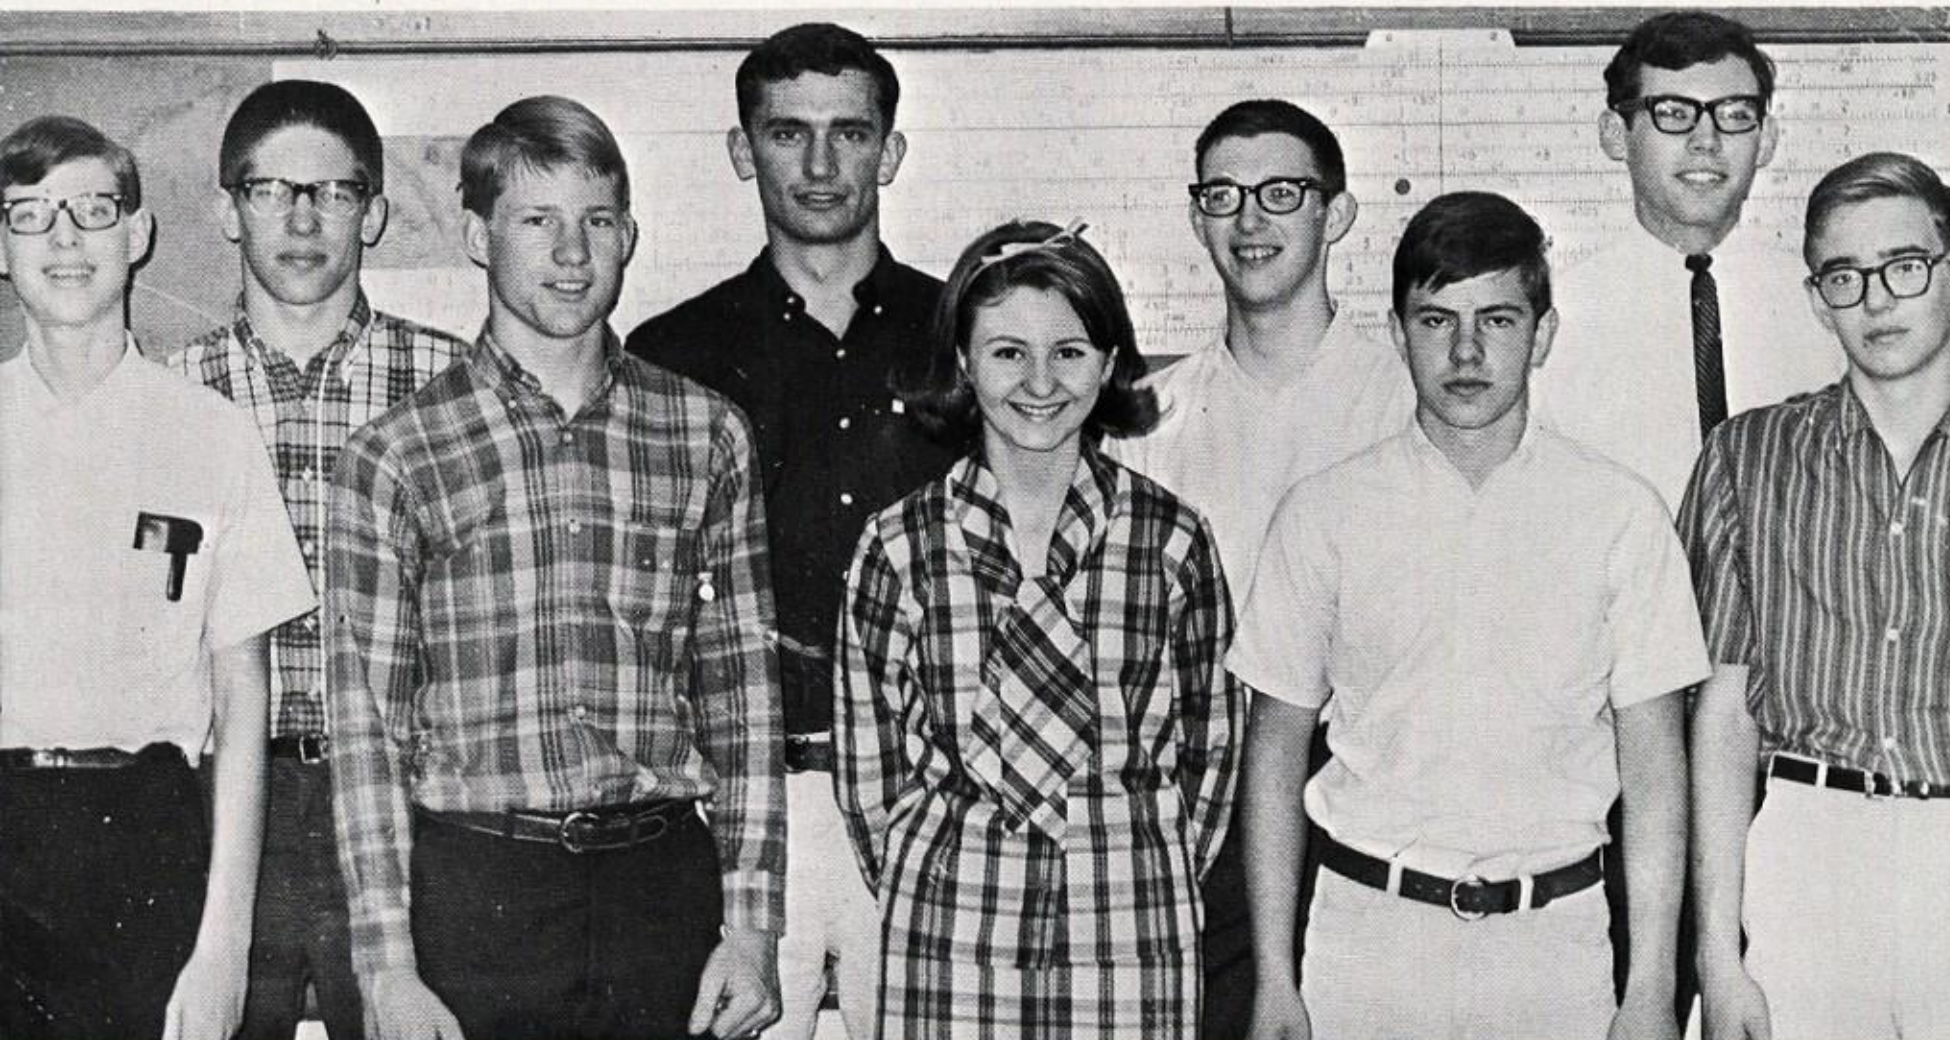

Other activities were trips to Continental and lectures by scientists and anthropologists.

Pam Huth, Patricia MacDaniel, and Linda Pavlik try drying out a few things on the rather damp field trip.

Slide Rule Increases Math Club's Prowess

John Hatlelid, Fred Hutchings, John Welch, and Eddie Pickens get their wires crossed trying to compute a simple problem.

Advised by Mr. Gordon Grant, the Math Club's itinerary contributed much to the members' knowledge of the slide rule, computers and mathematics in general. The basic fundamentals of the slide rule were learned first. These included multiplying, dividing, squares and square roots. Once these were learned more complicated problems were given.

John Hatlelid and John Haley demonstrate the effectiveness of a slide rule.

Medical Careers Studied by Paramedic Club

A visit to Hissolm Center for retarded children was the highlight of activities for the Paramedic Club. Also they visited the Hillcrest Medical Center, a hospital for the mentally ill. Many members have been working at the Ponca City hospital, helping on the floors and doing such jobs as taking water to patients, cleaning units, and making beds.

Members: Stephanie Thomas, Elizabeth Ashton, Joleen Rozell, Cheryl Orr, Margaret Rence.

Officers: Elizabeth Ashton, Sec.; Margaret Rence, V.P.; Cheryl Orr, Pres.; Mrs. Charles Brunnert, Sponsor.

Exploring and delving into the innermost recesses of the mind is one of the activities of the Psychology Club. In their attempts to become masters of the mind, the club members are aided and guided by their sponsor,

Mr. Carl Flippin. Members learn what is involved in the process of learning and better ways to learn. At other times exploring the pseudo-sciences provides humorous entertainment for club members.

Club members examine the various parts of the mind using a life-size model of the brain.

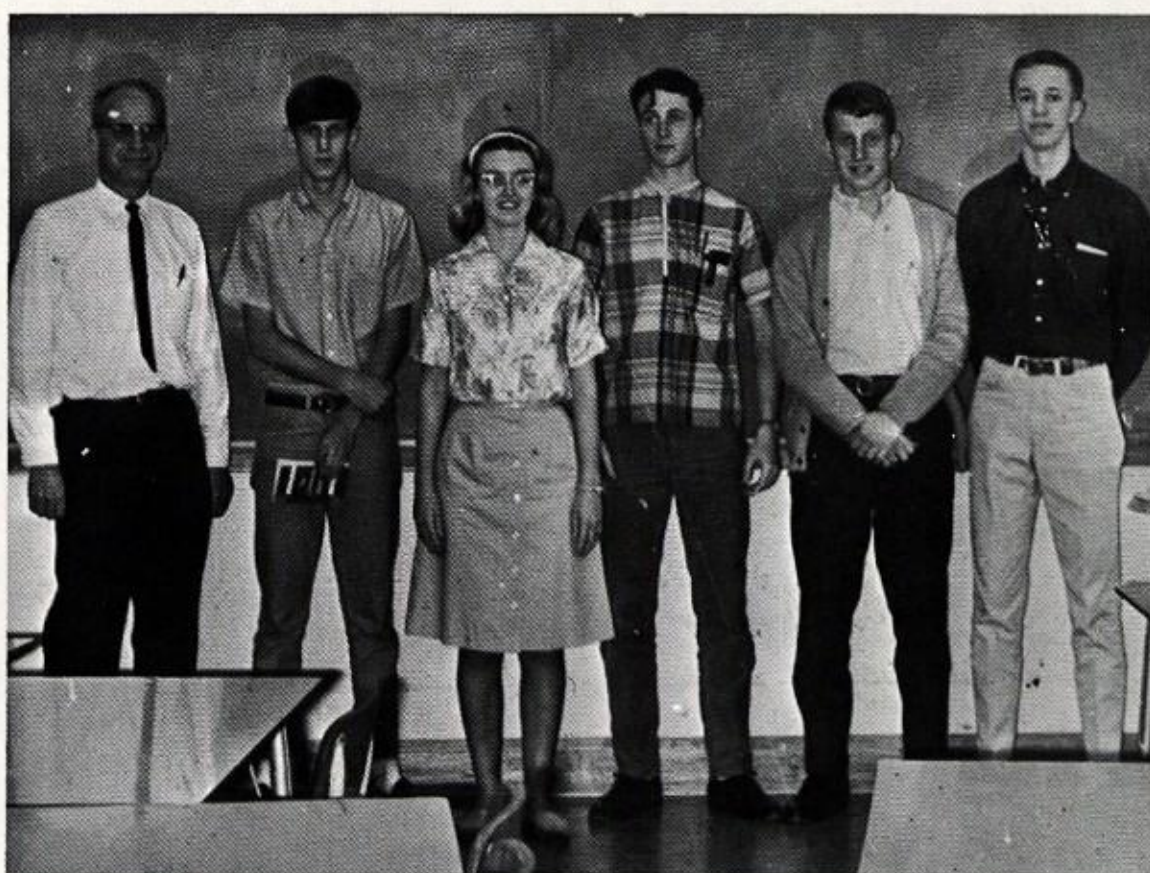

Using Susan Quinn's head as a model, Mr. Flippin demonstrates the ideas of phrenology to Jay Lessert.

Great Thinkers Encourage Future Philosophers

The controversial theories of Karl Marx was one of the favorite topics for discussion and argument for the Philosophy Club. The merits of capitalism, democracy, monarchy, and other forms of government also provided topics. The Philosophy Club was newly formed this year at the request of several students, and Mr. Johnson was selected as sponsor.

Philosophers debate the future of the world.

Po-Hi Play Nights Stress G.R.A. Fitness Program

Officers: Cindy Hartman, Secretary; Becky Quimby, President; and Joyce Powelson, Vice-President.

With the purpose of encouraging physical fitness, the Girls Recreation Association plans their activities around the annual Po-Hi Play Nights. These events are held in the gyms so that students may use the volleyball, ping pong, and basketball facilities.

The club began the year's activities with a hike to Lake Ponca Park. The 1965-66 officers are Becky Quimby, President; Joyce Powelson, Vice President; and Cindy Hartman, Secretary.

Po-Hi students "whoop it up" at the G.R.A. Play Night dance to the music of the Tracers.

Indian Clubbers Encourage College Education

Although the Oo-Kee-Hee Club is primarily for Indians, there are no race restrictions. Any Po-Hi student who displays an interest in Indian affairs may become a member of the club. Only persons with Indian blood, however, may hold office.

The Oo-Kee-Hee Club sponsored two dances during the year, one of which was highlighted by a full dress tribal pow-wow.

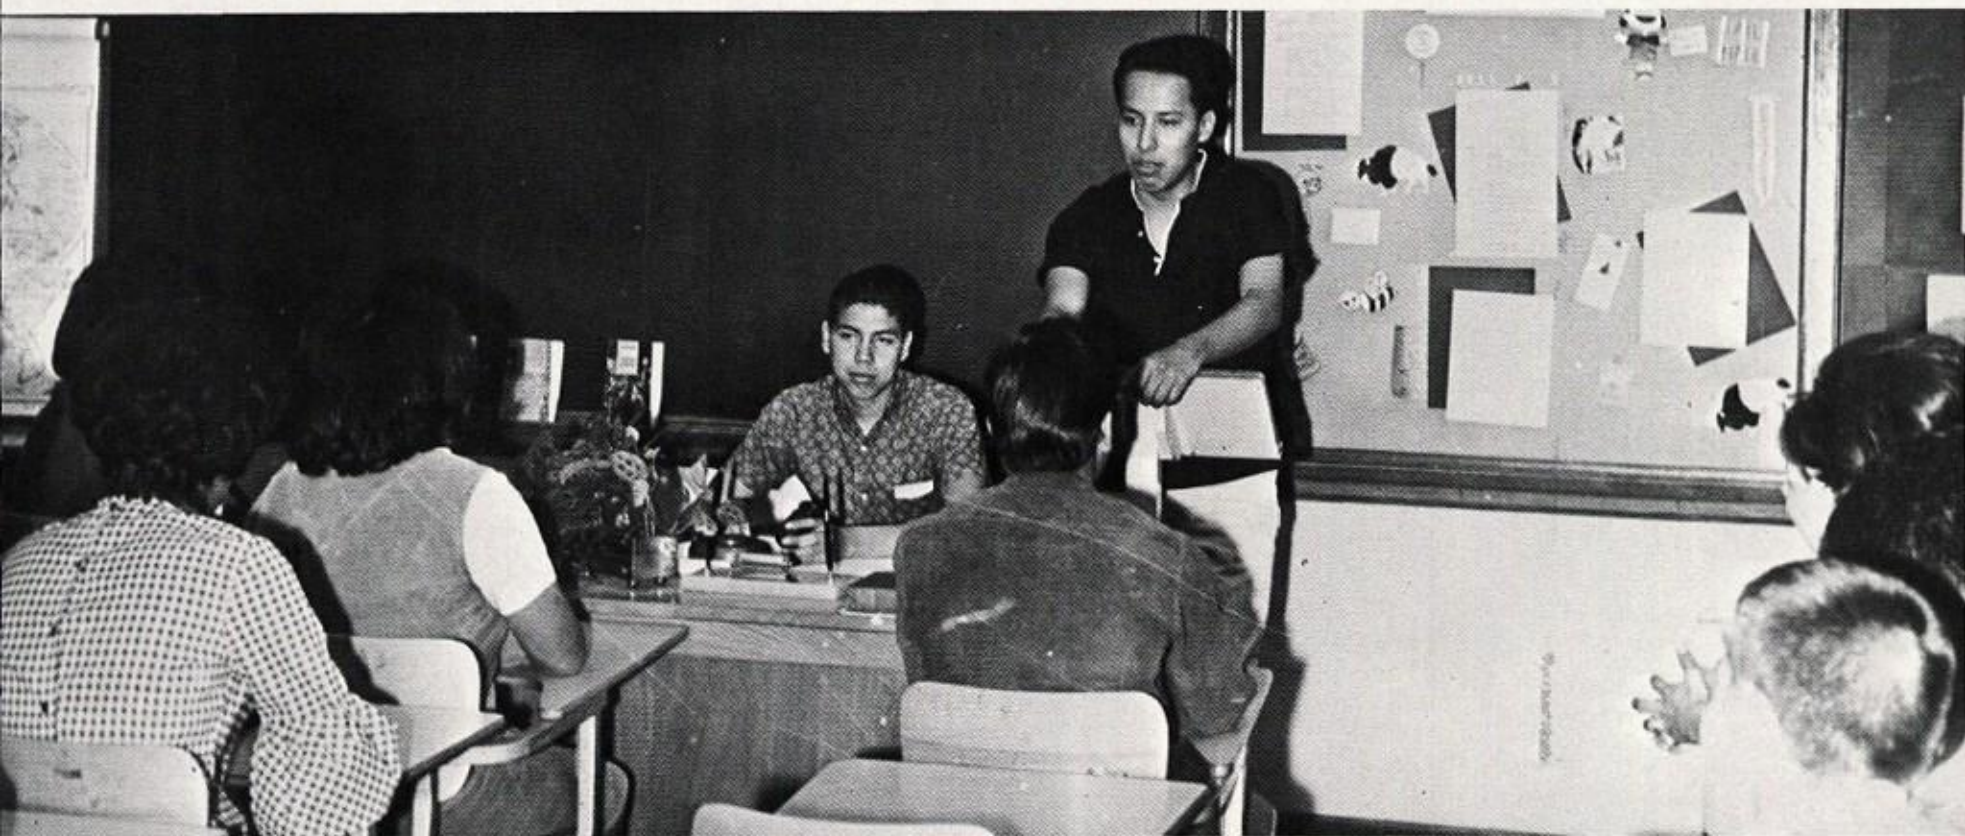

The Oo-Kee-Hee Club is led by Steve Pensoneau, president; Dorothea Walking Sky, vice-president; and Velda Cries for Ribs, secretary.

This year's officers are backed by sponsors, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Ruth Beaubien, and Mr. Delbert Carlile.

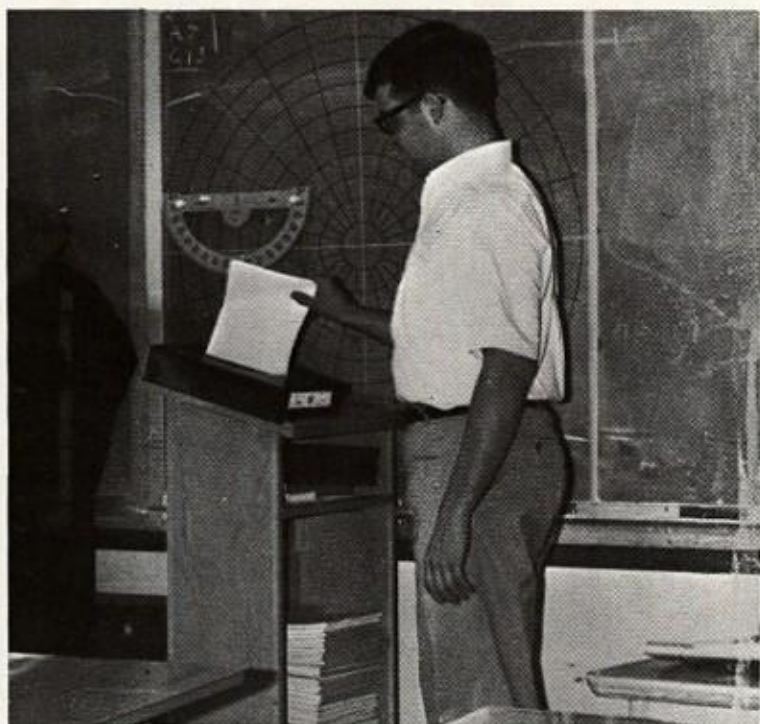

The Oo-Kee-Hee Club, which means "able to accomplish", in the Ponca language, has been established for six years.

Hi-Y Puts Emphasis on Youth in Government

The Hi-Y Club spent a busy year doing many worthwhile things. One project was refereeing grade school YMCA-sponsored sports—football, basketball, and baseball.

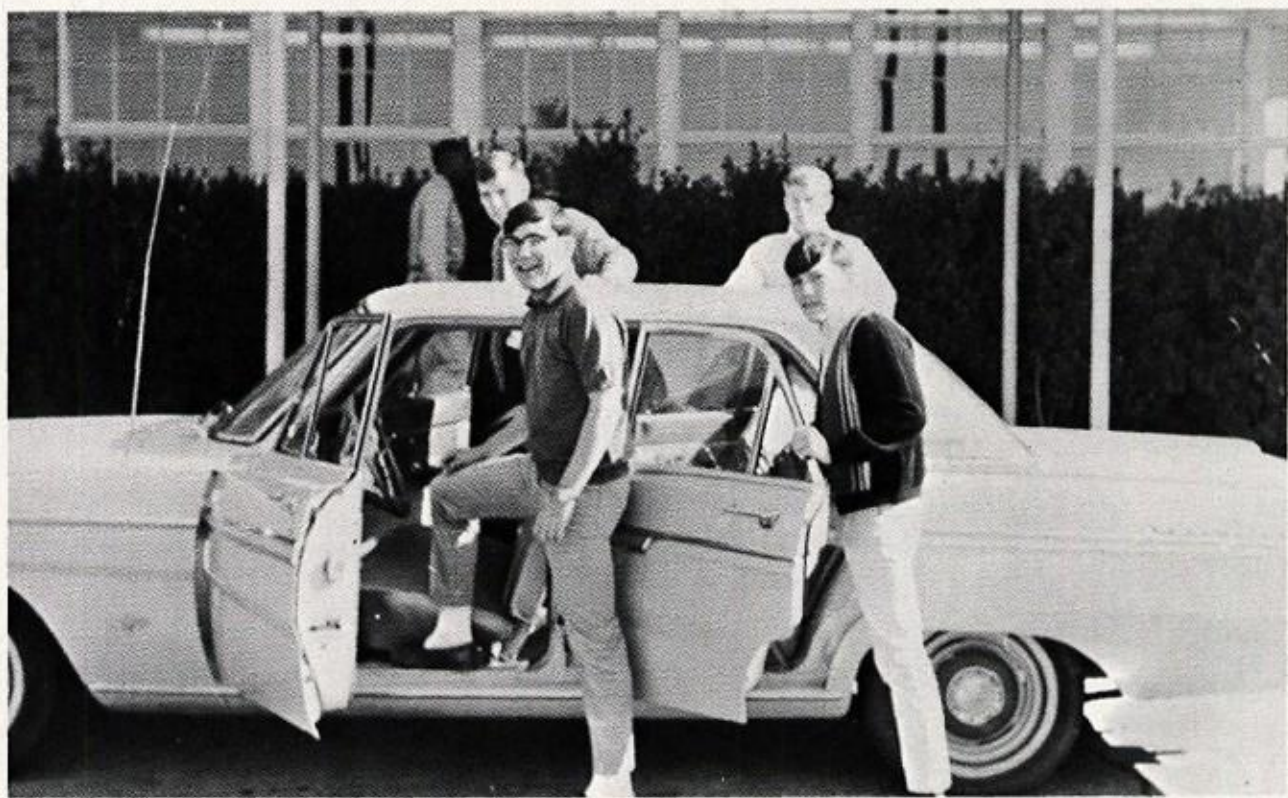

Endeavoring to enlarge their knowledge of our government and how it's run, the boys made trips to the Southwest Area Conference at Lake Murray, where John Northcutt was elected area president, to Stillwater for Pre-Leg, and to Youth and Government at the Capitol Building in Oklahoma City.

The Hi-Y gave $150 to the World Service, and raised money by collecting pop bottles and selling tickets for the Kiwanis Pancake Day.

"Kill the umpire!" shout the fans as a Hi-Y'er referees a YMCA baseball game.

John Northcutt is all ready to take Jim Sharrock, Chuck Gall, and Everett Hull to Youth and Government with him.

Through the enthusiastic efforts of our Tri-Hi-Y Club, many improvements have been made for various people in our community. At Thanksgiving time they collected non-perishables and made food baskets for needy families. With the coming of Christmas, an underprivileged Indian family with nine children was called to the attention of the club. The girls offered their time, money, and energy to making Christmas a joyful time for these youngsters. Each child had his own "sisters" for the day who gave him new clothing and toys at the holiday party, which was highlighted by a visit from Santa Claus.

They also attended Pre-Leg and Youth and Government to elect Diann Cowling Lt. Governor. Leap Week was climaxed by the girls' basketball game and Tri-Hi-Y sponsored dance.

Learning on the job and gaining valuable experience for future vocations is the purpose of distributive education and the DECA Club. They study salesmanship, sales ideas, making attractive displays, and other principles of marketing. They acquaint themselves with the basic ideas of private enterprise and the law of supply and demand. This is the first year for this club and it has been a successful one. One of the most appreciated activities the club held was an employer-employee dinner where the members had their employers as guests. Club members also attended the National DECA Convention held in Oklahoma City in the early spring.

Students Gain Experience in Prose, Poetry

THINK AS I THINK

Stephen Crane

"Think as I think," said a man,
"Or you are abominably wicked;
"You are a toad."
And after I thought of it I said
"I will, then, be a toad."

From this poem the Creative Writing Club took its name, the "Toads". The main activity of the club is writing in the various forms of prose and poetry. The group participates in constructive criticism of each other's work. At the end of the year they printed an anthology of their works. They also wrote a group poem through combined efforts.

The Club's mascot "Toadie" smiles his approval of club activities.

Mr. Ingersol and Buddy Ross discuss the day's film schedule.

One of Po-Hi's busiest groups is the reel rollers. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Ingersol, the reel rollers are on hand each period to show films—more than 1200 this year—in the Little Theater or the audio-visual room of the Anderson Building.

Besides showing these many thousands of feet of film, the boys learn the care and maintenance of five thousand dollars worth of audio-visual equipment which is used in the visual education program.

Stage Crew Runs Stage Operations Smoothly

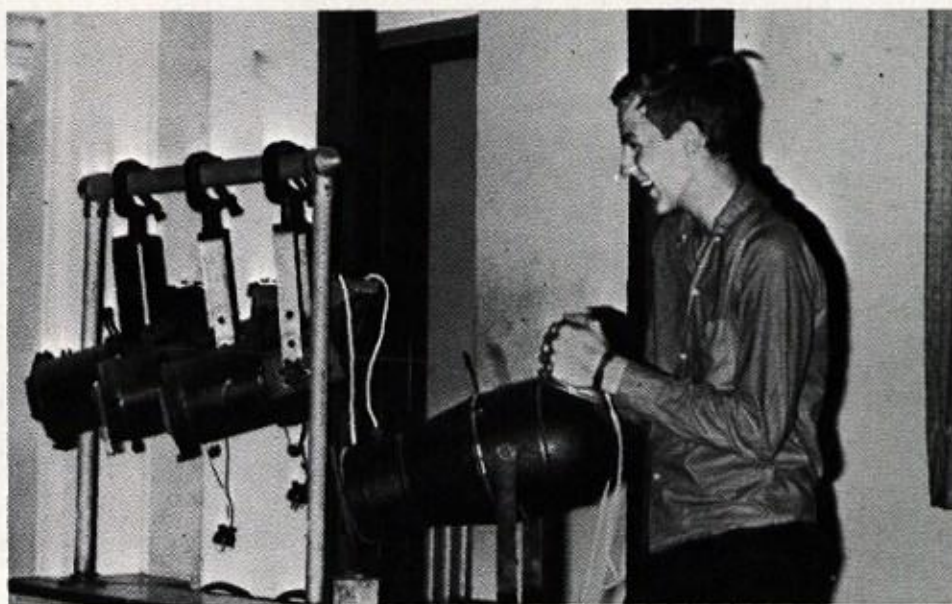

The stage crew is under the sponsorship of Mr. Surber. These boys do some of the large and small tasks that make all our stage productions successful. They operate the lighting system, take care of sound effects, arrange the props which they usually build, and maintain all stage equipment. These boys do play a very important role in all our stage productions. They devote one period daily to work on the stage, and many times devote additional hours after school.

The stage crew busily unloads props to be used in the Pon Dram Panic from a truck.

David Smith has finally mastered the knack of the silver knocker.

Terry Jansson happily operates the spotlight for the Panic.

Comical Antidote Presented by Junior Class

Angela Warren and her fiancé look on anxiously as attendants apply an oxygen tent to "Uncle Henry".

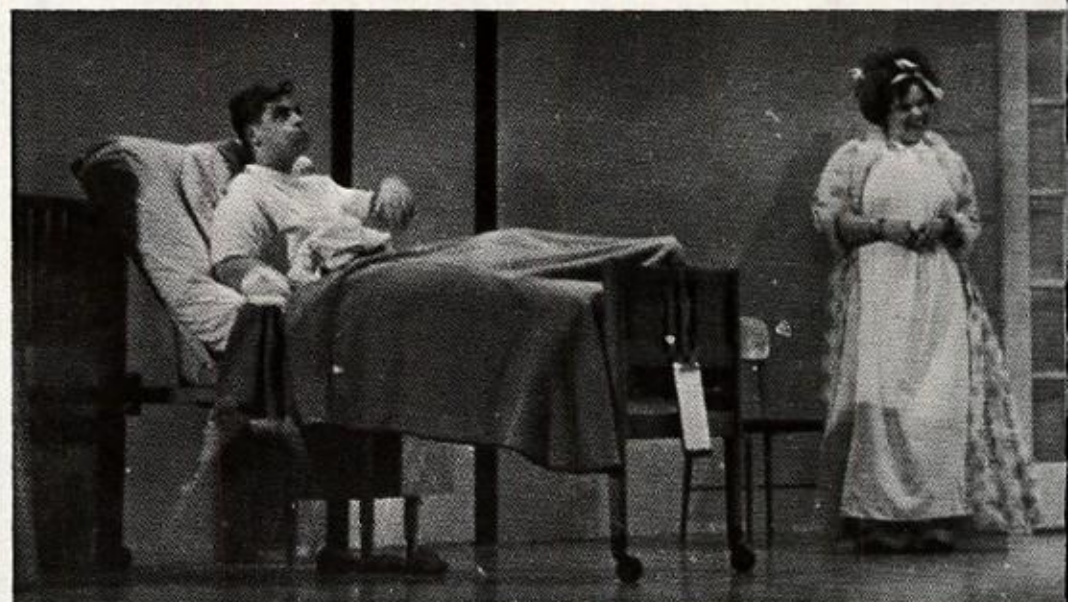

Secretly, Mr. Puckett changes his temperature to 105 degrees to enjoy a longer stay at the hospital.

Members of the Junior Class presented "Take Your Medicine" under the direction of Mrs. Annilee Hughes and Ron Bell, student director.

Antics of two hospital roommates, Dodson and Puckett, keep the medical center in a continuous uproar.

Characters include Miss Holt, Gay Lea Rein; Patricia Pryor, Suzanne Williams; Miss Cordelia Puckett, Mary Fee; Hoofdyke, Mike Waring; Kay Grant, worried man; Mida Lanning, Lottie; Becky McDaniel, Dottie; Jerrie McClafflin, the mother and Vicki Cross, her daughter; Dianne Culbreath and Halyne Beller, old maids.

Henry Dodson seems flattered as Miss Turtledove Finkledink gives him the eye.

The Cast of the 1966 Senior Play, "The Mouse that Roared"

Gloriana tells Tully of the impending trade deficit.

High Constable Bascom and his men survey the skyline of New York City.

"The Mouse that Roared" presented by the senior class, was directed by Mrs. Annilee Hughes. The play was a political satire on the foreign policy of the United States. It involved the 15 square mile domain, Grand Fenwick, which declares war on the U.S., invades New York City, in broad daylight, and accidentally captures a most deadly weapon, the Q Bomb, with bows and arrows. The main cast members included Myra Dritch, Gloriana; Kenny Perry, Tully Bascom; Jim Sharrock, Count Mountjoy; Tex Rowe, Mr. Benter; Lee Ellenwood, Prof. Kokintz; and Tony Oates, General Snippet.

Youth Traffic Court Given National Publicity

After a session, Mr. Goodman and some of the officers talk over decisions of the evening.

"Will the court please rise?" Dignity of the court is stressed.

Through the years, the Ponca City Youth Traffic Court has increased the understanding between the Police Department and the high school-age driver, giving the young violator the opportunity to be judged by his peers.

The youth court is set up as an actual court of law with all of the powers of a regular court. Its decisions are final and not subject to appeal. The punishment has been changed from monetary fines to education through the Youth Traffic School, and a possible essay.

Judge Jim Sharrock ponders a verdict, while the defendant awaits the decision.

Designed to educate, the Youth Traffic School offers courses which make the young driver more aware of his responsibilities as a driver. These courses, given in lecture form, cover the causes of accidents that are prevalent in the local community, their causes, and good prevention ideas. A study is also made of the history of laws, their origin, and their need.

During the last session, students discuss what they have learned and of what benefit the School has been to them.

Youth Traffic School Educates HS Violators

Discussions are a big part of the course of education in the Traffic School.

A short explanation of an educational film is given before it is shown.

Mr. Goodman works closely with his officers to insure authentic and accurate court procedures.

"Ponca City's Youth Traffic Court was established for the purpose of education. It was the city's fathers' opinion that through education, safe drivers can be made, not by assessing monetary fines, which parents usually pay anyway, but in personal feelings of becoming a safe driver.

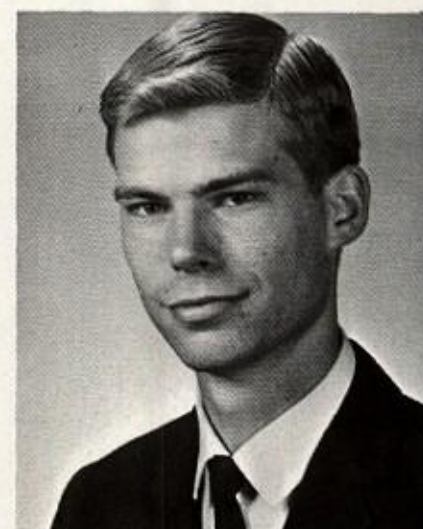

Since the court's inception in 1954, over 1350 students have been judged by their peers. Our Youth Traffic Court has had national publicity through magazines, books, and newspapers. I receive a letter a week from towns across the nation, asking information about our Court."

As part of their entertainment on the long trip to Chicago the orchestra members talked the conductor, John Fox, into playing the guitar for them.

Orchestra Day in Chicago proved to be the highlight of the year for Po-Hi's outstanding orchestra. The members of the National Band Clinic, meeting in Chicago's Sherman House, chose the Ponca City orchestra as one of four nationally outstanding orchestras to play there for the clinic.

Leaving on December 13 at about 6:30 A.M. on the Santa Fe Chief, the orchestra arrived in Chicago that evening. Included in their activities was a 4-hour tour of Chicago, particularly Chinatown and the Natural Museum of Science and Industry.

While there, the orchestra from Ponca City set a new standard for high school orchestras. The music they played was never before heard, and the members of the clinic selected Po-Hi's orchestra as the most outstanding of the four.

Sports

On the field battling—youth against youth. On the court deceiving—youth against youth. On the mat grimacing—youth against youth. They say it builds character.

We uphold them. Enthusiastically we lend our vocal support, feeling akin to their victories. We smile, slap them on the back. The “reputation” of the school is untarnished—the record is flaunted proudly.

Soon they will be forgotten. They will become dusky memories in the shadow of an era called high school.

And what do they gain? They gain bones and muscles distorted by misuse, ears swollen by constant abuse, fiery images of cleats on a strong young leg. And what do they remember? They remember pride, exultant victory, disillusioning defeat, fulfilling comradeship. And what do they learn? They learn that they are men.

All-conference halfback Larry Hernandez looks for daylight against Rogers following a key block by All-State fullback Odell Lawson with Jim Gillock leading interference.

Cats Climax Poor Debut as Okla. 7 Champs

September 10—Enid—13 to 40

In the first football tilt of the year, Enid stopped Ponca City 40 to 13. As with many "first" games, many errors were made on which Enid capitalized. The Wildcats displayed great spirit in not giving up though behind most of the game.

September 17—Edison—3 to 7

With the first conference game of the season, the Wildcats fell to the Edison Eagles. The Wildcats led 3 to 0 until the second half when a sixty-yard run by the Eagles set up the only touchdown of the game.

September 24—Stillwater—21 to 19

After dropping the first two games of the season the fighting Wildcats came back to defeat Stillwater, last year's AA champions, by a score of 21 to 19.

October 1—Bartlesville—19 to 12

The Wildcats brought a second victory to Ponca City in defeating Bartlesville. Great broken field running displayed by P. C. stymied the Bartlesville defense. Our Wildcats scored in each of the first three periods while Bartlesville scored on a long drive in the first and again in the fourth.

October 8—Hale—11 to 6

The 'Cats missed on an odd score but gained enough points to pass over Hale 11 to 6. Two safeties and a touchdown gave the total of the game.

October 15—Lawton—17 to 14

Wildcats lengthened their winning streak to four by downing AAA power, Lawton. This game considered by many as the best game the Wildcats have played. Ponca City offense clicked perfectly and the defense stopped anything thrown against them.

October 22—McAlester—20 to 6

Ponca City showed their power again as they took their fifth straight win by rolling over McAlester. The Wildcats' determination showed when the Cats tromped for a score the first time they recovered the ball. The best blocking of the year prevailed in this game.

October 29—Muskogee—26 to 22

After a fast touchdown in the first quarter by Ponca City, Muskogee came back to score three quick aerial touchdowns. At the half, the Wildcats were down 22 to 19. A second effort by the Wildcats brought them a victory.

November 5—Rogers—29 to 20

Through the efforts of the team and the great spirit of the school and city, our Wildcats walked over the top ranking Rogers Ropers. The team demonstrated great desire and determination in their win. A "standing room only" crowd cheered on the Wildcats.

November 12—Blackwell—49 to 13

Tradition was kept as the Wildcats played the Maroons for the last time. Spirit was brought to a peak with the annual parade of homeroom floats after which the Wildcats charged for another victory.

November 19—Central—24 to 16

Number nine came into the clutches of Ponca City as the Wildcats rumbled over the Central Braves. With the falling of the Braves, the Wildcats moved on to the state playoffs.

"Exciting to the finish was the results of this year's football season. After dropping the first two games, the Wildcats proceeded to produce the state's longest winning streak, ten in a row. With each consecutive win we rose in the state standing to second in the state.

Our consecutive wins continued through the state playoffs as we rolled over McLain 48-28 but this came to an abrupt and sad end as we met Enid in the finals to take an agonizing loss of 34 to 8.

We have every reason to be proud of the fighting, courageous football team of Po-Hi! Eight Wildcats made all conference with one all stater; Jim Gillock—end, Larry Hernandez—half-back, Bobby Edwards—guard, Richard Aggers—tackle, Lynn Moore—half-back, John Butterfield—linebacker, Jack McMahan—tackle, and All-State fullback Odell Lawson.

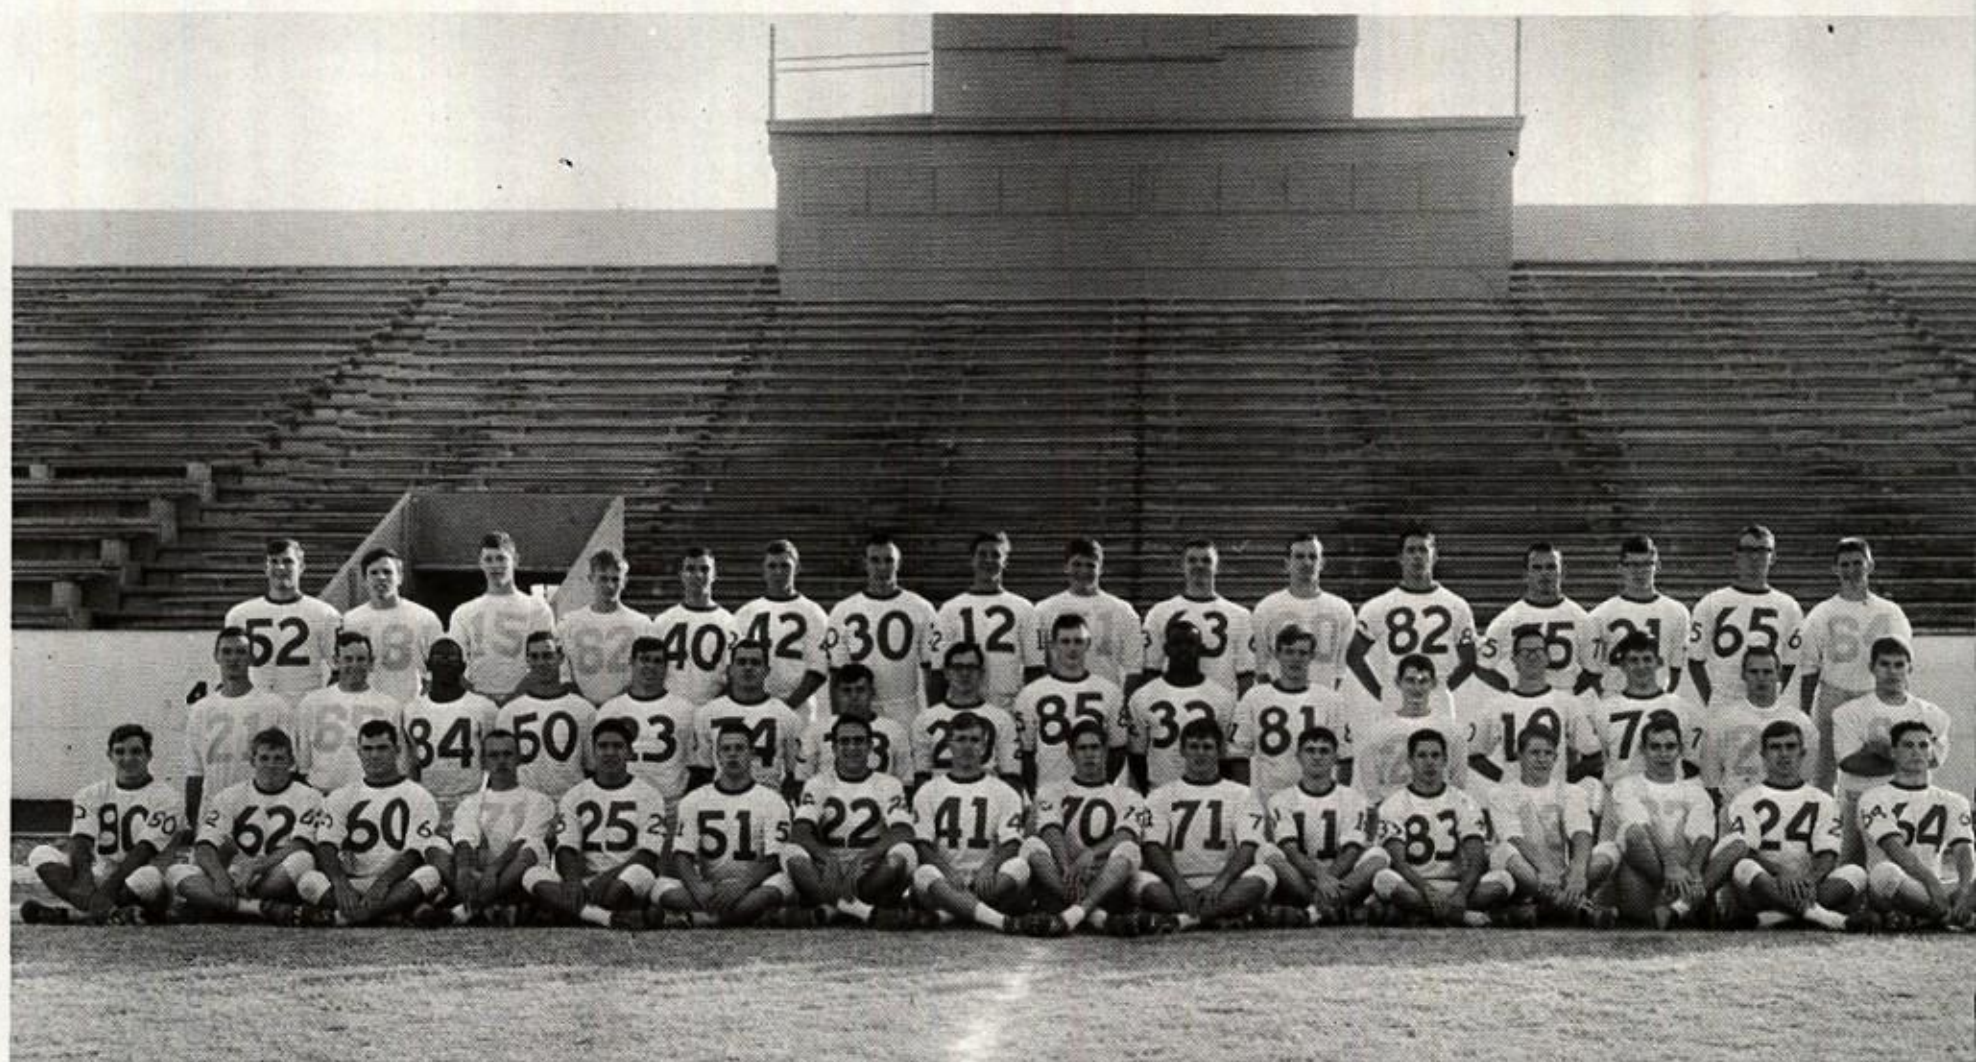

Coaching the 1966 champion Wildcats were Ted Pierce, Dewey Runyan, Bill Eskew, Bill Leming, Jerry Runyan, and head coach "Wild-Bill" Currens.

Three Wildcat defenders converge on a Rogers backfield man as he drives deep into Ponca territory before a "capacity plus" crowd at Ponca's biggest home game.

Cagers Make Comeback With Determination

Led by the returning lettermen, Jim Franks and Mike Thompson, with two all-conference men, Odell Lawson and Alvester Roland, and the new coach, Bill Eskew, our cagers established a 14-8 win-loss record. This record was good enough to settle the Wildcats in second place in the Oklahoma Seven Conference although hindered by mid-season dropouts. A decisive battle with the Tulsa Central team, in which Ponca City was defeated 54-56, put our cagers in the second position to Muskogee. But the irony of it all is that the Wildcats beat the Muskogee Roughers a total of three times during the 1966 year, 60-52, 70-63, and 58-53. The last defeat was at the finals of the regionals.

The Wildcats went to State for the first time in twelve years. This year's playoffs were held in the State Fair Arena in Oklahoma City. The team's first round draw was second seeded Northwest Classen. The Classen team was last year's AA State champions. The Wildcat team downed Northwest Classen by six points, 71-65, to go on to meet first seeded Tulsa Webster. Tulsa Webster proved the truth of these predictions. After defeating Ponca City by 51-42, they went on to cap the AA crown.

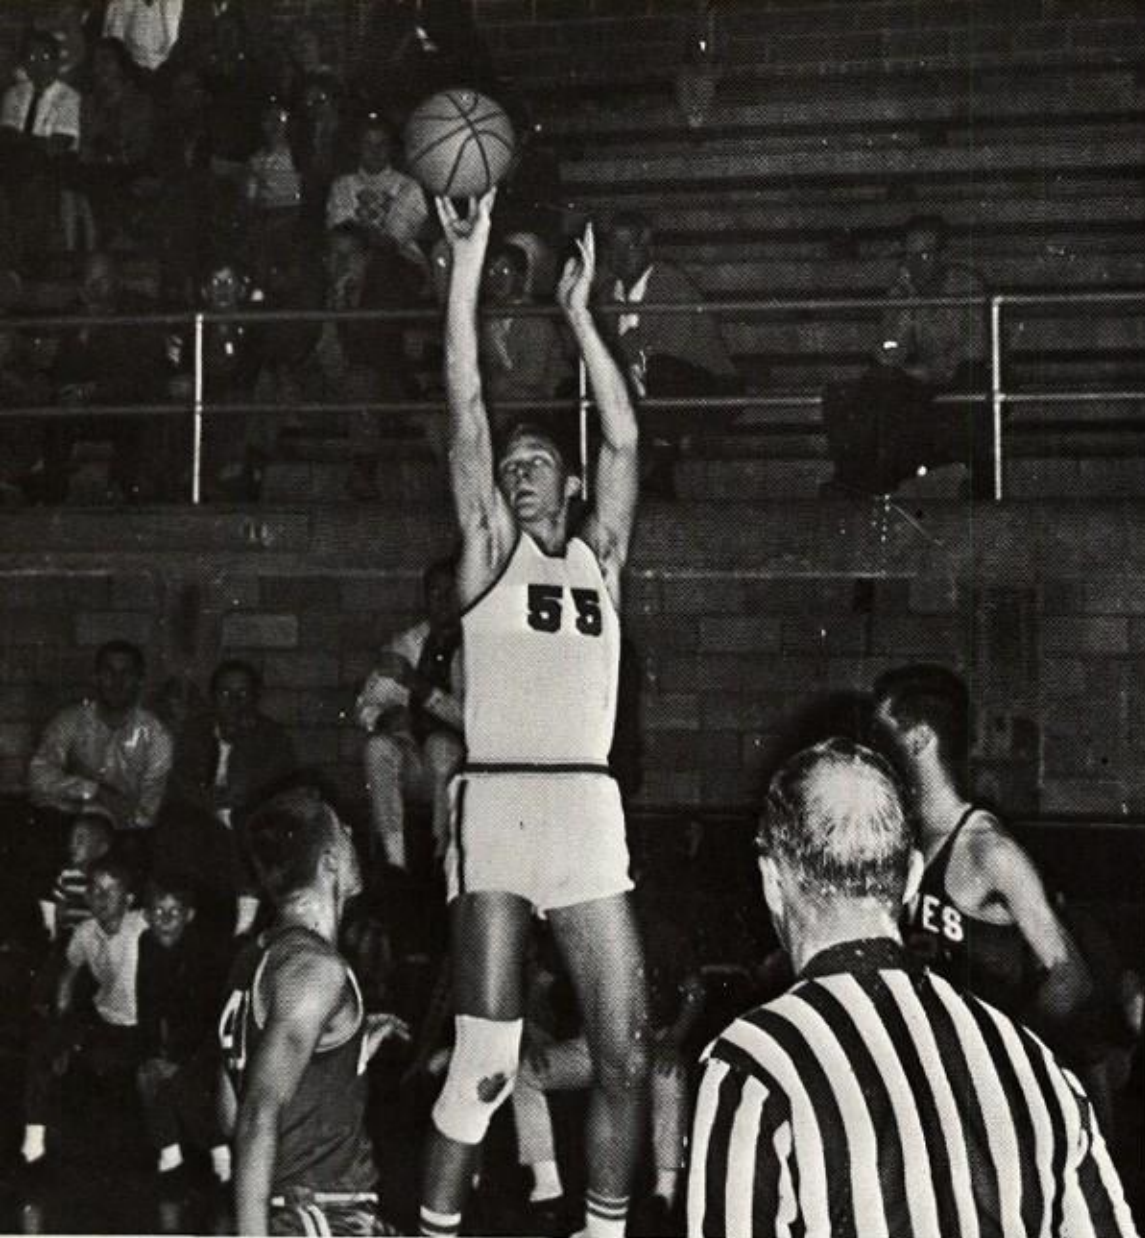

Coached by former Ponca City high school cager, Jim Nichols, the "B" team Wildcats of tomorrow massed a 14-4 record. The "B" team was led by the juniors who gained valuable experience in these games.

Robert Jones proves his prowess by shooting from outside the circle.

All Conference forward, James Franks, goes high in a perfectly executed jump shot to sink "two" against the Central Braves.

Check boy, Gary Cravens, sorts uniforms for an upcoming basketball tilt.

At the beginning of this season, which was just the opposite of last year, the Wildcat wrestlers performed as predicted by winning their first three matches. The 'Cat grapplers had been picked as number one by several pre-season polls. The strong start, however, was not enough to carry them through to the top, as the team fell into a mid-season slump, losing some matches by only two or three points.

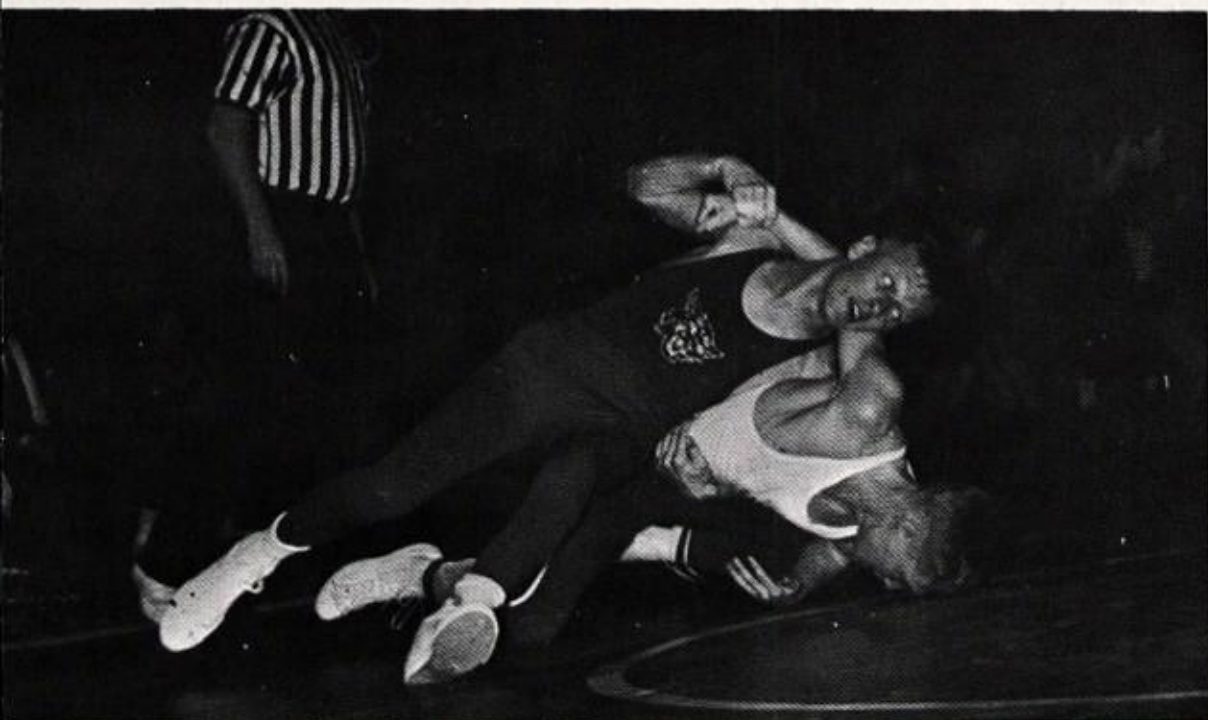

For the first time in several years Ponca City broke a jinx by beating Blackwell by a wide margin. Another spectacular highlight of this season was the 'Cats' tie for first place in the Big Four tournament. The Class A powers beaten in this tournament later became one and three in the state.

This year the 'Cats once again sent a small team to state. A few of the grapplers on the tournament team wrestled their first match at the regional tournament. Three men placed: Lonnie Roland—second; Kip Hogan—third; and Larry Pittman—second. Lonnie Roland repeated his last year's triumph by becoming one of the few wrestlers to be a state champion twice. Kip Hogan placed second in the state and Larry Pittman placed fourth.

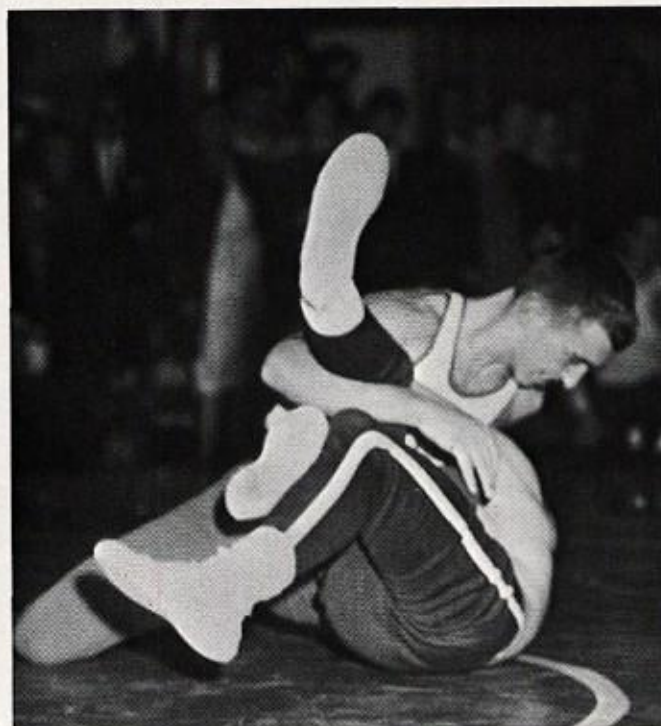

State champion Lonnie Roland heaves his man onto the mat for a decisive victory.

Net Teams Sweep State AA Honors at Ada

With Dick Smith and Terry Snow the only returning lettermen from last year's state champion net team, the Wildcat tennis players had to rely on a rookie squad to vie for their honors. With determination and practice the team extended their long established Oklahoma undefeated dual match record.

Hindered by the loss of their top-ranking 1965 champs, the Wildcat team still managed to finish in second place in the Oklahoma 7 Conference and third in the eight team tournaments at Seminole and Oklahoma City Harding. In the State AA tourney at Ada the boys' team placed third.

Boasting an unprecedented string of undefeated dual honors, the Wildcat girls' tennis team won first place honors in every tourney in which they were entered. In one tournament the girls were pitted against each other in the finals of all events.

In duals, the girls defeated the Seminole State Class A champions as well as the Oklahoma City Harding team. They came out in first place in the eight team tourneys at Seminole, Alva, and brought home the State class AA trophy to Po-Hi.

Cross country has a short history at Po-Hi, three years to be exact, but already the cross country team has made a name as a state competitor and gained increasing popularity due to the individual effort of a typical Po-Hi team and the excellent character building of the coach.

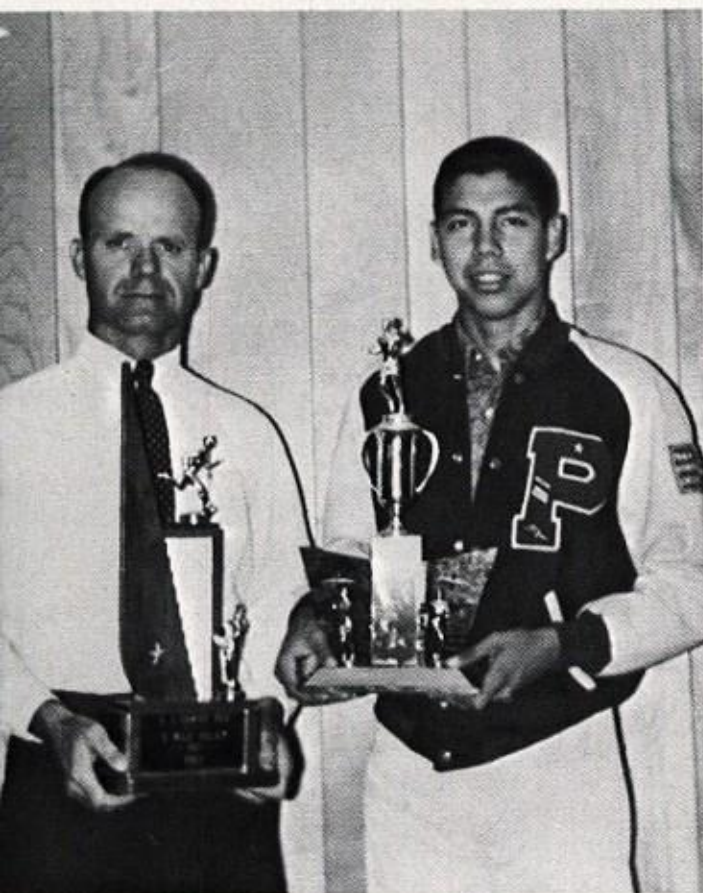

This is a grueling sport which requires great amounts of endurance, both physical and mental. The boys work through stiff practices by running several laps of different courses in the North Park. Pace is a most important factor in distance running and is strongly emphasized by Coach Stangeland.

The team placed well in dual meet winning two of two, beating Enid and Stillwater. The harriers placed second in the conference and third in the state

Team of Three Cat Trackmen Run in State

Tracksters is a word which in the yesterdays meant, "one who burns a trail of a significant distance." PO-HI Thinclads are making this word and definition synonymous again. As Coach Gordon Stangeland makes great strides with his Cross Country team, distance running in the track team has sparked to new heights.

This year's thinclads qualified these men for state competition: Mike Springer, low hurdles; Tom Baker and Steve Pensoneau, both distance runners. These men qualified for state by placing in the regional meet.

The '66 team held their own in the county meet and in all duals. They placed seventh in the conference.

The Wildcat baseball team started slowly but finished the season placing third in state. The team posted a 10-10 record under the first year coaching of Bill Leming.

Ponca placed fifth in Conference and won the Regional Tournament.

Of this season Coach Leming commented, "The boys were the finest group of boys a coach could ask for. I believe in all athletic programs not only winning but also teaching young men to be competitive, good sports, and gentlemen."

Boy's Swim Team Builds Competitive Spirit

The boy's swim team showed evidence of growing strength this year. Although the boys only won one meet during the season, the point scores in the dual meets came amazingly close to those of the high-ranking state teams.

During the season, weekly time trials showed overall time improvement and because of the new fast-rising swimmers who joined the team, competition for leading places on the team increased.

Losing only three seniors, the team has high hopes for success next year.

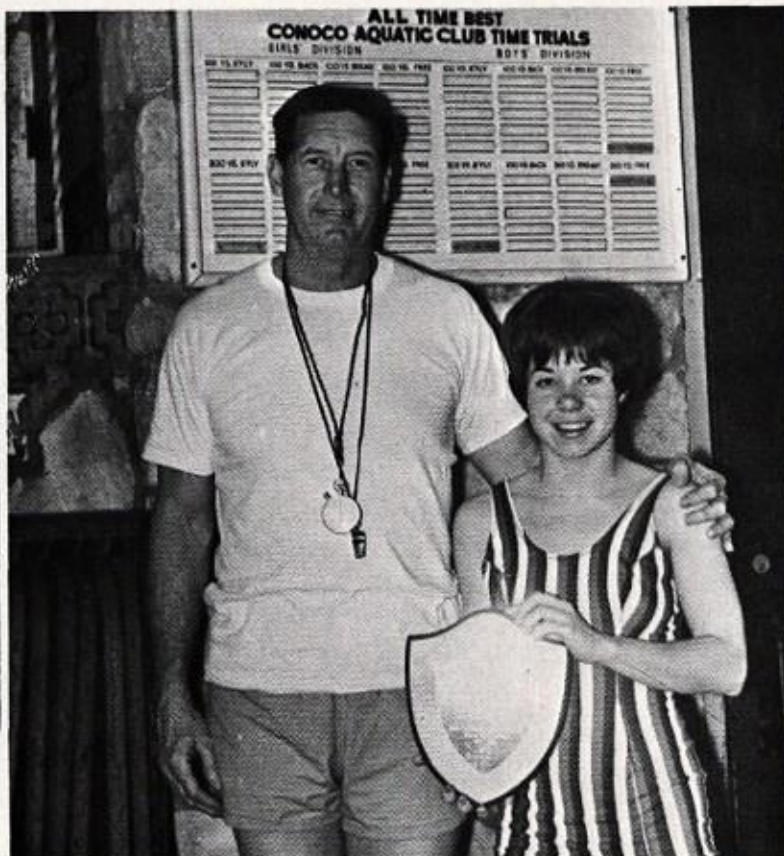

Joe and John Hatlelid stretch for distance to beat the clock in time trials.

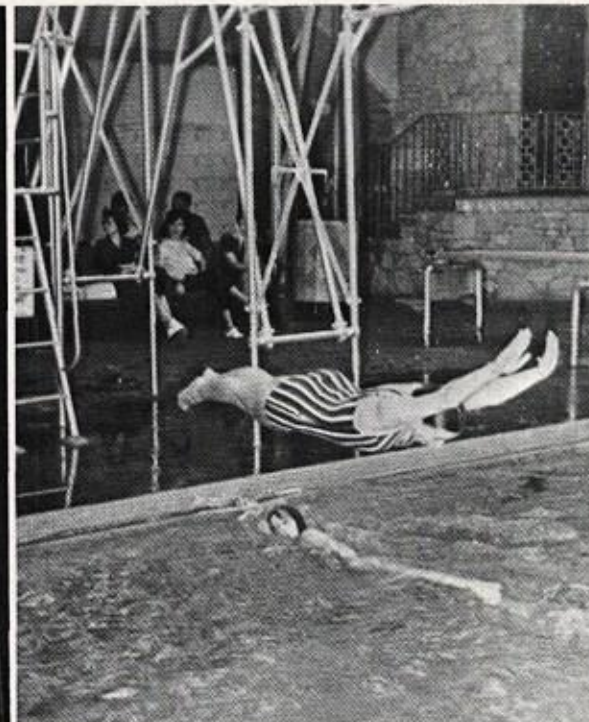

Tom Muchmore churns desperately to better his time in time trials.

With a backstroke start Susan Quinn begins a medley relay time trial.

'Aquanettes' Set Pace With Sweep of Firsts

Although Po-Hi's girls lost their state swimming first to Bartlesville, they racked up the greatest number of first place events. With a team twice the size of our own, Bartlesville gained the leading score through a number of low point placings but no firsts.

Susan Quinn, Po-Hi's four year 50 yd. backstroke champion, marked her farewell appearance by shattering her own record.

Sally Burns won first for the third year in 50 yd. breaststroke. Connie Lee splashed to a second in the grueling 50 yd. butterfly and the 50 yd. freestyle, the event immediately following.

The 200 yd. medley and 200 yd. freestyle relays gained our other firsts. The freestyle relay team tore through the finals making a record-topping first.

Honors

To be praised, to be rewarded, to be recognized—the need is inherent in all human beings. In some the need dominates visions of reality; in others the need hibernates in the crevices of the unconscious. The need exists—it must be satisfied.

Some may be fulfilled by money; some by beauty; some by achievement; and some by love. And, as we are satisfied in our need for recognition, we may come to realize our roles in fulfilling the needs of others.

Today the school may grant praise; reward excellence; recognize the bud of brilliance. The school may, for three years of predominance, fulfill the human need—or it may make a mockery of the need for praise. The school may award its honors thoughtfully—or it may distribute them haphazardly. We are the school ...

Royalty Crowned to Reign Over Instrumental

Instrumental Music Royalty reign over the first dance following the coronation.

Each spring, formal all-school dances are held to honor sports and instrumental music. As a major attraction, the royalty elected by these departments are crowned and reign over the dances.

Traditionally the sophomore class sponsors the all-sports dance. The theme this year was carried out in the decorations with animals dressed to represent the various sports. The center of attraction was a tree full of monkeys behind the throne. After the coronation all the lettermen present were honored.

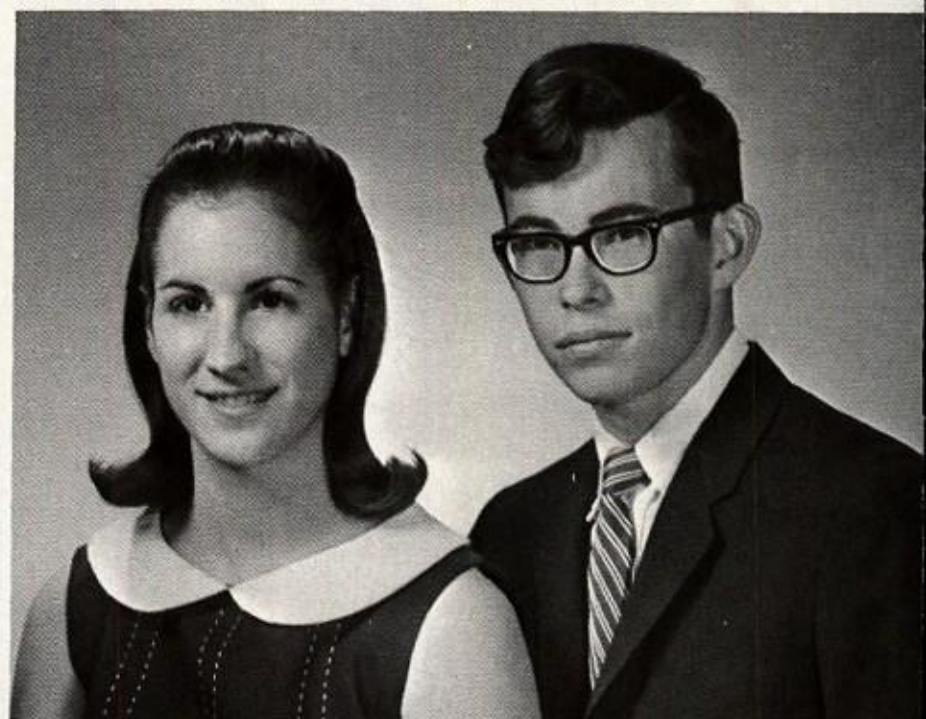

The instrumental music dance was sponsored by Miss Kelley's and Mrs. LeBlanc's homerooms.

Lions Club Award

The Class of 1966 elected Linda Skinner and Jim Beaubien the outstanding seniors, recipients of the Lions Club Awards.

At Girls State, Linda was one of four nominees for governor, secretary to the governor, and Outstanding Citizen. She was elected state treasurer of OIPA, Spanish Club president and queen. She was a Senior Lion, Cat Tale Business Manager, and holds a scholarship pin and a creative writing award. In the Junior Miss contest she was second runner-up and received the scholastic achievement plaque.

Jim was elected Vice-President of the Senior class, was a member of National Honor Society, has three scholarship pins, and won an American History and two creative writing awards. He received the Masonic Award, was a Senior Lion, and president of his junior homeroom. He was chaplain of Hi-Y, and Cat Tale Layout Editor.

Nonnamaker Award

Miss Pam McMellon
and Mr. Win Yeary

Pam McMellon and Win Yeary were elected the outstanding junior girl and boy to receive the Nonnamaker Award. Pam was secretary of the Junior class, sophomore homeroom, and Glee Club. She is secretary-elect of Student Council, a Girls State alternate, and member of AFS and Dynamiters. She was in the junior play and Pon-Dram Panic. Win is next year's Student Council president. He was Sophomore class president, student director and chairman of the Pon-Dram Panic, Boys State delegate, chairman of the House and School Improvement Committee and chairman of the Student Council Safety committees. Win was a member of sophomore football squad.

Civic Clubs Sponsor Student Representation

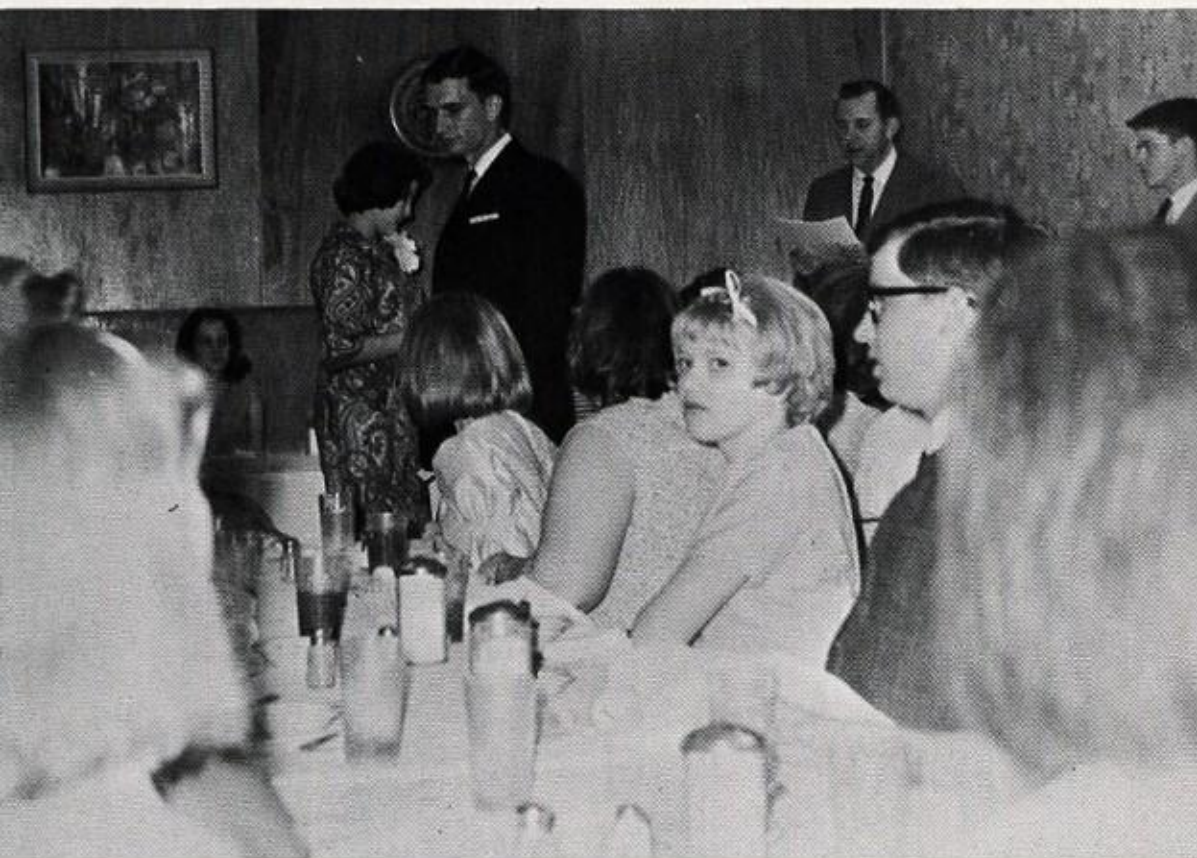

Reprimanded for his "hell-raising", Lion DeRoy Skinner loses his tie to Tailtwister Buddy Robertson.

Each month, Po-Hi's executive committee considers nominations from the faculty on the basis of service, leadership, scholarship, and character, and chooses representatives to the Lions and Rotary Clubs.

At the weekly meetings, the seniors are expected to be a part of the program. The boy gives the latest sport report, and the girl relates the other activities of Po-Hi to the civic club members. In May, the clubs have a picnic, and the Senior Lions and Rotarians come back to take complete charge of the programs.

Boys and Girls Staters Gain Gov't Practice

To realize the value of the individual's role in good government, one must be well-informed about the fundamentals and basic rights that are ours through the freedom heritage given us. The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary sponsor week-long training experiences for junior boys and girls.

Ponca City sent many outstanding representatives to Oklahoma Girls and Boys States. Buddy Robertson and Diann Cowling were chosen to attend Boys Nation and Girls Nation because of their splendid performances during the week. Buddy was a nominee for lieutenant governor, Diann was elected floor leader in the House, Linda Skinner was a primary nominee for governor, and she and Charles Hall were elected outstanding Citizens of the cities. Barbara Mahorney and Jack Holland were chosen as mayors of the cities. Ponca Citizens also held many other state, county, and local offices.

School Life

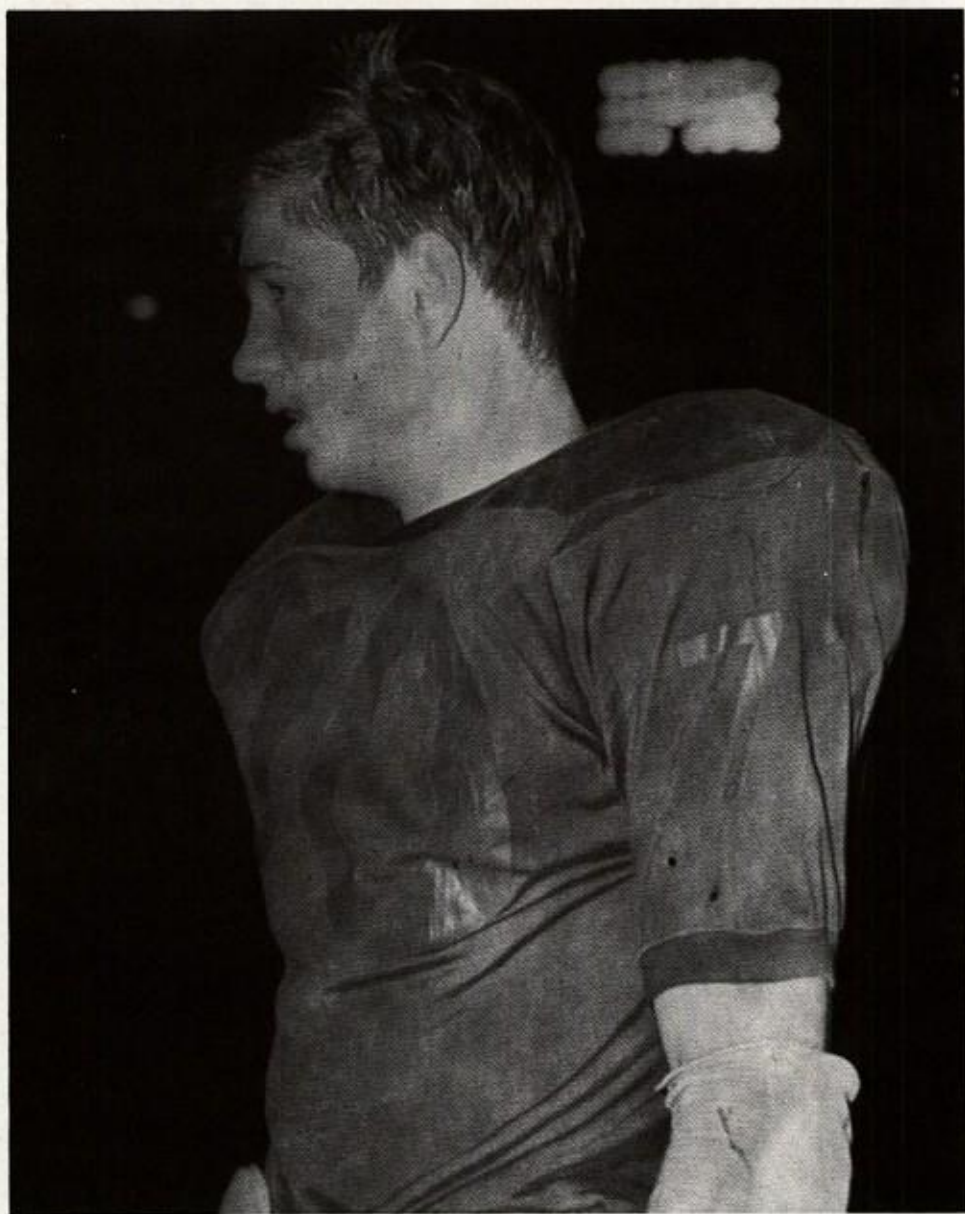

It is a time to be hopeful, to be conscious of happiness. It is a time to bask in the glow of youth—a glow which fades as a rose in the autumn chill.

It is a time to seek life, to offer life, greetings of laughter, greetings of tears. It is a time to be willing—to be willing to nurture golden impulses, to accept thrilling emotions.

It is a time that shall not linger—has not the strength to linger. It weaves a spell, a fragile spell that cannot brave the storms of time. It is the weakness of the time that constitutes its strength.

It is a time to be young. It is a time to seek understanding of the glory of this time.

Seniors Receive the Keys to Their Futures

Finding the way to their seats as the orchestra played "Pomp and Circumstance", the 1966 graduating seniors of Ponca City High School could only look back upon their past twelve years of schooling and reflect upon the future. They now realize that these twelve years are the keys to their futures.

Through the theme "Service—A Way of Life", a challenge was brought before them—the challenge to an abundant life through worthy, willing service.

As the commencement exercises drew to a close, the graduating seniors of 1966 had only the future ahead of them—a future that each one individually will make.

The Class of '66 begins the march to the Hutchins Memorial where they will attend the Vesper Service in their honor.

With reverent attitudes and bowed heads, the seniors of 1966 pause in prayer and realize the omnipotent presence of their God.

Through the Shadows . . .

Today he can be sheltered by the masses, he can follow trails well-worn by the years. But the tomorrows can never be easy. His decisions will be his own, he will be forced to understand rather than accept. The comforting shadows will disguise him no longer.

Often his elders question his ability to survive in this world. Many dwell upon his immaturity and unconcern. Many are certain he will fail.

If they were to come upon the 1966 Cat Tale, perhaps they would see more than an image, more than a statistic. Perhaps they would see a youth searching for himself—and for the courage to stand alone “through the shadows”.
